

Short Work Week Called Destructive To Coal Industry

Pittsburgh, Dec. 2 (AP)—A top industry spokesman says John L. Lewis' order to mine coal only three days a week is "destructive to the industry and every one who earns his living in it."

George H. Love, spokesman for the operators' negotiating committee of the National Bituminous Wage conference, lost little time attacking Lewis after the unpredictable United Mine Workers' chief called off his fourth full-scale walkout of the year yesterday.

"Again our employees are being deprived of the right to earn a decent living by the arrogant monopolistic power of John L. Lewis," Love said in a prepared statement. He added:

"These men already have lost almost 80 days' work this year and $1,200 in earnings. The present wage x x x is the highest paid by any major industry in the world and would permit our employees to maintain a decent standard of living, but one man dictates exactly how many days they may work, regardless of how much work is available.

"This is inhuman and it is wrong, x x x."

Lewis didn't comment on Love's statement.

In calling off the walkout which began at 12:01 a. m., (Eastern Standard Time) yesterday, Lewis said the three-day work week will apply to all of his 400,000 soft coal diggers—as well as to most of the 30,000 anthracite (hard coal) miners in eastern Pennsylvania.

And Lewis said the three-day week, which begins next Monday, will continue until individual companies sign agreements to replace the contract which expired last June 30.

That means he hopes to chip away at the solid front thus far presented by industry. There's no sign of any company giving in to Lewis' unspecified demands for his men who average $14.05 daily. He's said only that his "modest demands" would cost industry 30 to 35 cents more a ton. Industry already is paying 20 cents a ton to finance the UMW's pension and health and welfare fund.

Payments from the fund were stopped in September. On September 19 hard and soft coal miners struck. Lewis ordered the hard coal miners and 22,000 soft coal diggers, east of the Mississippi back September 30. Then, on November 9 he ordered all diggers to resume work for a three-week period.

When the truce expired the UMW members struck automatically. But it was the shortest strike in their history—ending a bare 11 hours after it started. It will go in to the books as a two-day strike, however, as the miners were scheduled to work today and Lewis has decreed it won't be necessary to work again until Monday.

Fires Destroy Georgia Timber

Dry Weather Blamed For High Hazard

New Orleans, La., Dec. 2 (AP)—Forest fires continued to make inroads today (Friday) in timberlands stretching from Western Louisiana almost to the Georgia line.

Dry weather was blamed for the increasing number and extent of the blazes.

Mississippi appeared to be the hardest hit, and the state forestry commission predicted things would get much worse by Sunday.

"We are looking for the heaviest weekend yet," said State Forester Albert Leggett. He estimated 1,000,000 acres of land had been burned over in 36 unprotected counties during November. An additional 67,000 acres were seared in the 46 protected counties. Rankin, an unprotected county, was termed the "hottest" in the state. An emergency crew was sent there yesterday to save two homes which were threatened.

Alabama authorities reported forest fires in every one of the state's 67 counties. In Alabama's Talladega National Forest, foresters said, a man-made fire was raging.

Shimmy Queen Gilda Sues Film Company For Million Dollars

Denver, Dec. 2 (AP)—Gilda Gray made the shimmy great shakes, but did she originate it? That's the question jurors will probably have to decide in the million-dollar damage suit filed here by Gilda Gray against Columbia Pictures.

The film company questioned the origin of the dance in its answer to the former shimmy queen's complaint in federal district court. The answer was filed yesterday.

Miss Gray, a dance queen of the 1920's, is now living in retirement on a ranch near Larkspur, Colo. She filed suit against the film company April 13 asking $500,000 actual damages and $500,000 exemplary damages in connection with the motion picture "Gilda."

She charged the film company invaded her privacy by depicting incidents from her own life. Her complaint added that the production has prevented her from selling her life story.

Miss Gray also complained that a Spanish dance performed by Rita Hayworth in the picture was a copy of one originated by herself.

Conductor Accused Of Killing Negro In Birmingham Streetcar

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 2 (AP)—A murder charge has been placed against a streetcar conductor who, police said, fatally shot a Negro man in an argument over sitting in the vehicle's white section.

The conductor, M. A. Weeks, 54, is accused of shooting Sammie Lee Williams, 34, the night of Nov. 20. Williams died Monday.

Both Weeks and Williams were charged with assault with intent to murder after the incident. The assault charges against Weeks was dropped after the Negro man's death.

Bond of $1,500 was fixed on the murder charge against Weeks.

Italian Labor Is Not Scared By Communism

Reds Handed Defeat As Strike Flops

Rome, Dec. 2 (AP)—Millions of Italian workmen have demonstrated the Communists don't scare them like they used to.

The bulk of Italian labor handed their country's Reds their worst defeat since the April, 1948, general election by ignoring a 24-hour Communist-led general strike which ended at 6 a. m. today.

The strike was called by Communist labor union leaders to protest the death of two peasants in clashes with police over farmland invasions by "squatters."

The strike was generally observed in the heavy industries—steel and automobiles—of North Italy, a Communist stronghold. But everywhere in this generally non-industrial nation shops, cafes and offices were fully staffed and most workers ignored the quit work call from the Communist-controlled Italian Federation of Labor (CGIL).

Public transportation was only partially paralyzed. Most of the ports were idle, however.

Government and Conservative party sources termed the strike a flop. They pointed out that two years ago fear of Communist reprisals would have kept shops tightly shuttered, offices unmanned and buses, trains and streetcars idle.

During the Communist-called strikes in 1946 and 1947, most persons stayed indoors and away from work rather than incur Red anger.

Yesterday's almost-normal business activity was another demonstration of how the Communist influence had waned since Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrats soundly defeated the Reds in the 1948 election.

Rep. John Espie Of Eagle Dead

Eagle, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—Heart disease today ended the long career of Rep. John P. Espie (R-Eagle), 69, one of Michigan's most powerful legislators and the oldest member in point of service.

The veteran chairman of the House Ways and Means committee died at the farm home he has occupied near here since 1909 at 4:30 a. m.

The body will be at the Teman funeral home, Grand Ledge, until Monday noon when it will be removed to the Trinity Episcopal church, Grand Ledge, at 2 p. m. with the Rev. Dr. Charles E. White rector, officiating.

Burning Ship Rolls Over At Coast Dock

Alameda, Calif., Dec. 2 (AP)—With a stubborn fire raging in its hold, the Matson freighter Hawaiian Rancher rolled over at the Encinal terminal today and crashed into the dock.

There was no immediate report of any casualties.

The fire department earlier said the fire technically was under control, but stubborn. Firemen fighting the spread of the blaze through a cargo of construction cardboard exhausted their gas masks and came out.

Fireboats started to fill the hold with water to smother the flames, when the ship rolled over.

The 8,353 ton ship is on the Hawaiian run. The cargo was manufactured from sugar cane.

Appointed To Senate

Topeka, Kas., Dec. 2 (AP)—Harry Darby, Kansas industrialist and Republican National committee-man, today was appointed to the United States Senate to serve the unexpired term of the late Republican Senator Clyde M. Reed of Parsons. Darby was appointed by Gov. Frank Carlson, also a Republican to serve until a new senator is elected in November 1950.

Balance Budget Now, Says Treasury Chief

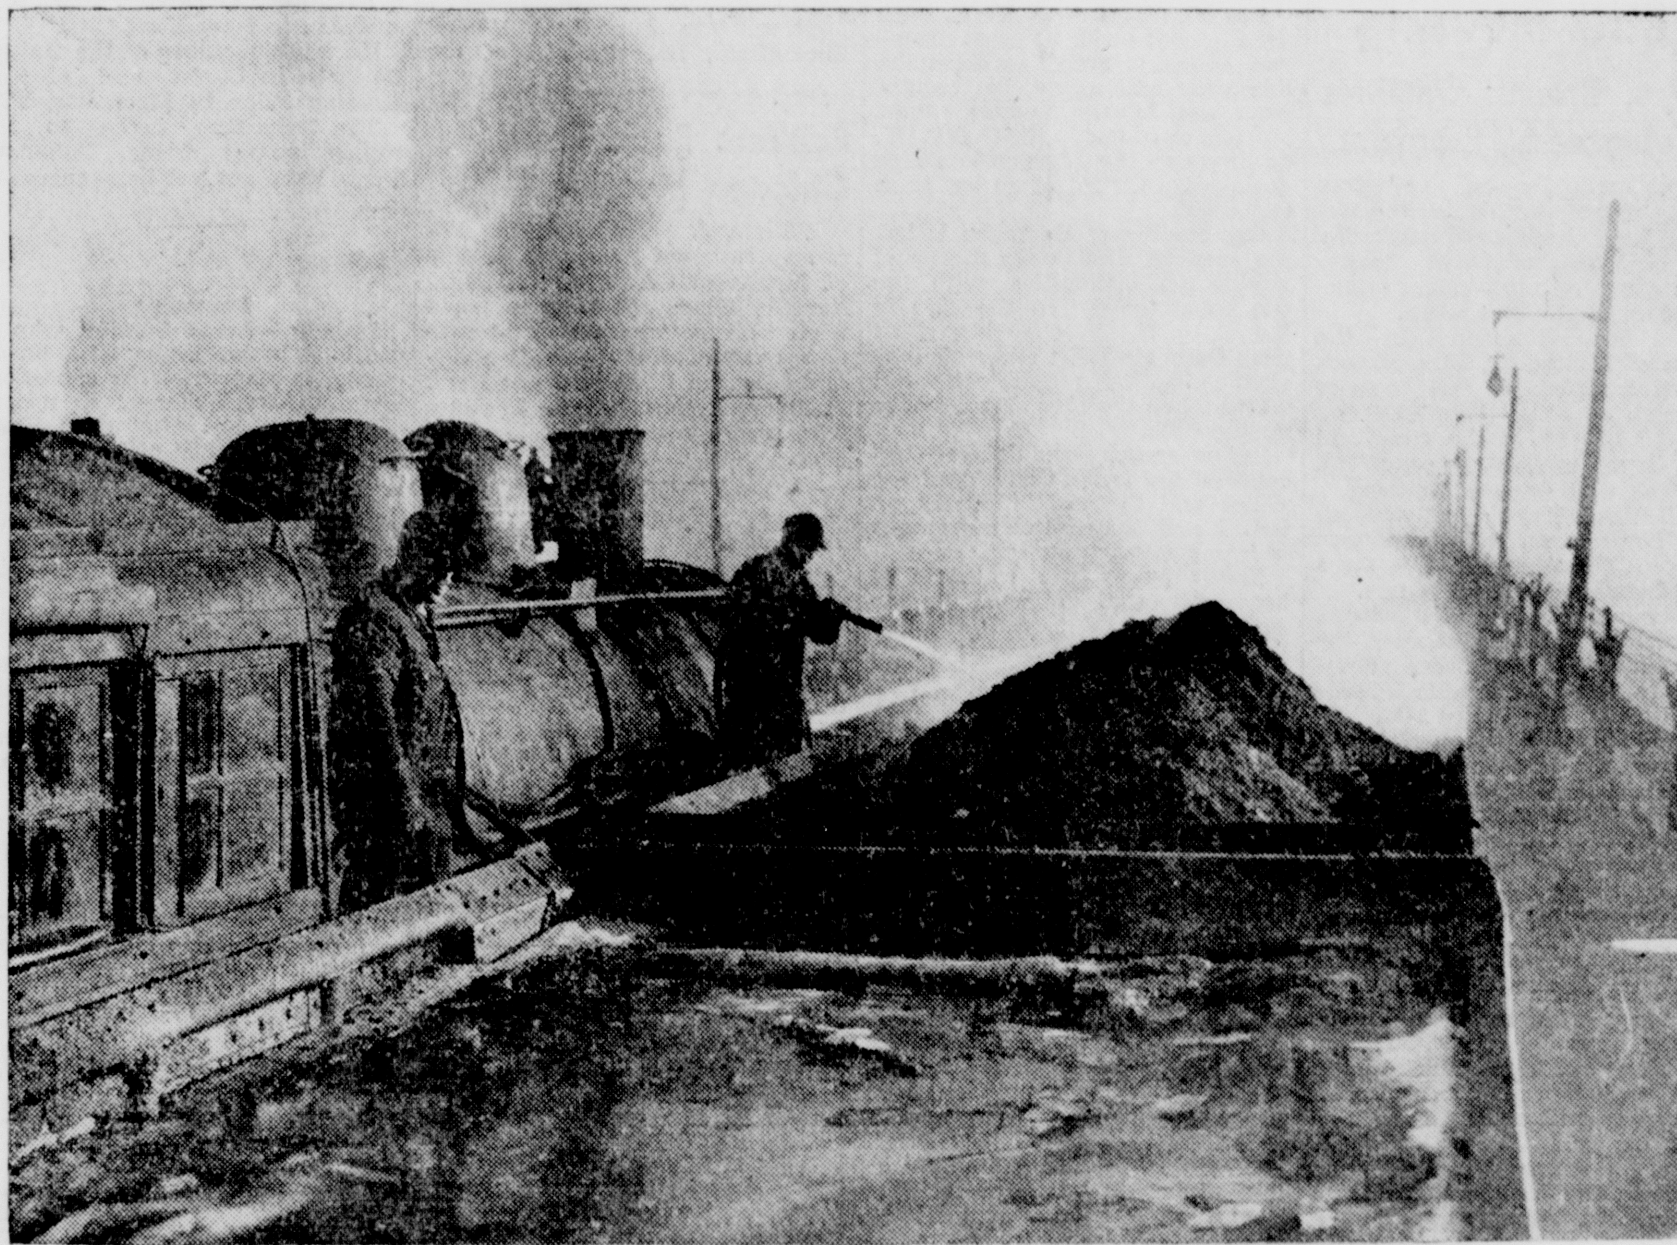

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder said today the government's budget should be balanced—now.

But he made no suggestions beyond reiterating a 3½ year old statement that the government should reduce spending "in every possible way" and "maintain adequate tax rates" to keep receipts and outlays in balance.

Appearing before a Senate-House subcommittee studying government money, credit and financial policies, Snyder cited President Truman's estimate that spending will run $5,500,000,000 in the red this fiscal year, ending next July 30.

"It seems to me, however, that in times as prosperous as these we

Martime Union Ousts Leftists

Big Joe Curran Wins Smashing Victory

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—Big Joe Curran today had a green light to finish his purge of leftist elements in the CIO National Maritime Union.

He nailed down a smashing victory for his own right wing policy last night at a mass meeting of nearly 5,000 seething deep-water sailors.

It was his third such victory in the last two months, and apparently clinched his grip on the leadership of the Big Gulf and East Coast Sailors' Union.

He won on two points:

1. A vote to suspend 15 union officers he accused of Communist sympathies.
2. A general vote of confidence in his conduct of union policy.

The decision came after two weeks of sporadic fist fights and near-rioting between the bitterly opposed factions on New York's waterfront. All the purged officers were New York officials—Port Agent David Drummond and 14 of his union patrolmen.

Feelings ran so high at St. Nicholas arena—scene of NMU meetings—that 300 police stood guard last night and an outside organization was called in to take the vote.

HILL COLLISION FATAL

Ionia (AP)—Salesman Walter E. Bollinger, 49, of Ionia, was fatally injured Thursday night when his car collided with a truck driven by Virgil Mohler of Sheridan at the top of a hill on M-21 east of here. Sheriff's officers said it was snowing at the time of the crash and the road was slippery. Mohler was not injured.

Chinese Government Hunts New Capital

Chengtu, China, Dec. 2 (AP)—The uneasy Nationalist Chinese government cast about today for another capital, expecting to be forced out of here within three weeks or less.

Chengtu's position becomes more precarious with each step the Communists advance toward it from fallen Chungking, 170 miles southeast. The Reds have already cut the highway between the old and the new capital in several places. But Nationalists denied a rumor Neichiang, midway point between the two cities, had fallen.

Most people here seem to think Sichang, high in the mountains of Szechwan province, 225 miles southwest of here, will be the next Nationalist capital.

If the Nationalists are driven off the mainland, the fugitive government probably will wind up in Chiang Kai-shek's stronghold at Taipei, Formosa.

(Senator) Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) arrived today in Taipei when he told newsmen Formosa is one of the vital points in the world's cold war. The U. S. senator said if Britain recognizes the Chinese Communist government it will soon find itself in the same position as Gen. George C. Marshall found himself when he tried to blend the Reds and Nationalists.

(Marshall went to China in 1946 as President Truman's special envoy. He proposed a coalition of the Communists and the Nationalists. But it didn't work.)

It was revealed that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek almost got trapped in Chungking. Highways to Peishih airport were so congested Chiang abandoned his car, walked part of the way and borrowed a jeep to finish the journey.

After the reconciliation was announced, parliament officials lifted an order that banned Schumacher from sessions of the Bundestag (lower house) because he had insulted Adenauer during a heated debate last week.

Schumacher had been ordered barred from parliament's next 20 sessions after he called Adenauer "chancellor of the Allies."

Today's announcement said Schumacher, after three lengthy conferences with Adenauer yesterday, had withdrawn his remark. His expulsion had been voted by the parliamentary council of elders (rules committee) in an unprecedented action.

West Germany, meanwhile, had taken the first step toward fulfilling its part of the Allied-German agreement.

Adenauer wrote to the Allied high commission asking for membership for his government in the international authority controlling the Ruhr Valley, Western Europe's producer of coal and steel.

Over 12,000 Koreans Quit Communism

Seoul, Dec. 2 (AP)—The National Association of Converts from Communism announced today it signed 12,196 Koreans during "change of heart" week.

Sponsors of the membership drive said some of the former Communists sent in repentant letters written in their own blood.

Converts went to police stations and agreed to accept political guidance from the association. Police in turn agreed to forget their past political misdeeds to give them a fresh start.

Freighter Huronic Goes To Scrap Heap

Sarnia, Ont., Dec. 2 (AP)—When the waning Great Lakes shipping season ends, the freighter Huronic will be turned into scrap by the Steel Company of Canada.

The Huronic, a passenger craft until fire destroyed its upper decks several years ago, once was sister ship to the ill-fated excursion boat Noregon, which burned at its pier at Toronto Sept. 17.

Bonn Leaders Bury Hatchet

German Socialists Patch Up Quarrel

Bonn, Germany, Dec. 2 (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and his chief parliamentary opponent, Socialist Leader Dr. Kurt Schumacher, have buried the hatchet.

The West German government in an official statement today said the two leaders had patched up their quarrel which arose last week in a parliamentary debate on the Allied-German agreement relaxing occupation controls.

After the reconciliation was announced, parliament officials lifted an order that banned Schumacher from sessions of the Bundestag (lower house) because he had insulted Adenauer during a heated debate last week.

Schumacher had been ordered barred from parliament's next 20 sessions after he called Adenauer "chancellor of the Allies."

Defense Plan Mapped Under Atlantic Pact

France Gets Biggest Share Of Equipment

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—A billion dollars worth of American arms will begin moving to western Europe in a few weeks, now that the Atlantic treaty countries have unanimously agreed on their grand strategy of defense.

Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson was due back from Paris today to present the defense plan to President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson. Johnson is the American member of the defense committee of the 12-nation Atlantic Alliance which adopted the plan at a meeting in the French capital yesterday.

Russia No. 1 Menace

France is expected to get the lion's share of the arms and military equipment which Congress authorized to strengthen the western European members of the alliance against any Russian aggression.

The strategic plan presumably is based on the possibility that in event of a Russian attack France, along with the other European continental members of the Atlantic system, would bear the brunt of the onslaught.

A communique issued by the defense committee at the conclusion of its meeting said it "arrived at unanimous agreement on and gave full approval to the following action:

"a. Strategic concepts for the integrated defense of the North Atlantic area.

"b. Provision of a program for the production and supply of armaments and equipment.

"c. Coordination of planning between the various regional groups (of countries in the alliance).

"d. The progress of defense planning of the North Atlantic Treaty organization."

American Tasks Outlined
While outlining the general nature of its work, the committee gave hints as to the provisions of the strategic concepts it adopted.

However, it can be reported that these are of a broad rather than specific nature. They are designed to guide the regional groups in their detailed planning. The United States, Britain, France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg, for example, have responsibility for detailed planning of the defense of western Europe.

American tasks believed to have been assigned under the plan—

New Panama Regime Recognized By Cuba

Panama, Panama, Dec. 2 (AP)—Cuba last night became the first nation to recognize the new government of President Arnulfo Arias, which took office last week in a police-sponsored coup.

A diplomatic note extending Cuba's recognition "in accordance with the Bogota resolution" was delivered by Cuban Consul Abelardo Leon Blanco to Foreign Minister Carlos Brin.

Brin expressed his government's appreciation for Cuba's action and said he was confident other countries would follow suit.

Priest Branded Spy For Russia

Yugoslavs Try 10 For Plot Against Tito

Sarajevo, Yugoslavia, Dec. 2 (AP)—A gray-bearded Russian orthodox priest pleaded "partially guilty" today to Yugoslav charges he worked for the Nazis in this country during the war and lately tried for Russia against Premier Marshal Tito.

Father Aleksei Krishka, in long black priest's robes, heads a group of 10 Russian white guardsists being tried here as spies for the Soviet embassy in Belgrade and sponsors of cominform propaganda against the Tito regime.

Father Krishko was the first to take the stand today. A blanket indictment against all ten defendants was read yesterday.

His testimony was full of contradictions. At the beginning, he denied flatly he ever worked for the German Gestapo while it was in Yugoslavia during the war.

But he admitted he had said during earlier investigation that several white Russians in Yugoslavia had joined the Germans on his advice.

The first day's questioning of the priest was pointed mainly at establishing the charge that all the accused—former czarist Russians who fled here after the Russian revolution and then became Soviet citizens after the last war—had worked for the Nazis.

City Revises Tax Schedule

Assessment Date Is Changed To Jan. 1

The Escanaba city council last night adopted a resolution changing the tax assessment date from April 1 to January 1 to conform to a new state law. The statute provides that the tax roll must be prepared by the first Monday in March instead of June 1. The board of review also will meet three months earlier.

Rates for special garbage service, recommended by city manager A. V. Aronson, were approved by the council. The garbage collection service expenses are included in the general property tax and this system remains unchanged in the new ordinance. However, where garbage collectors are required to pick up receptacles located more than 10 feet from the alley lines, additional charges will be levied. The cost will be $6 per year for a single family dwelling where the receptacles are located from 10 to 50 feet from the alley line and $10 per year if the receptacles are 50 to 100 feet from the alley line. The rates for two-family dwellings are 50% higher than for single family dwellings.

The council adopted a resolution spreading the special assessments for water installations on Eighth avenue south from 19th to 23rd streets over a five-year period. The installations will be due January 1 each year, starting in 1950, and carry a 4% interest rate.

$300 For Community Fund
Initial steps to annex to the City of Escanaba property outside the city limits recently purchased by the city from the War Assets Administration were approved by the council. The property is the government ore dock project site located in Wells township. The annexation was recommended to the council by the city planning commission.

A contribution by the city of $300 for the Delta County Community Fund was approved by the council.

Letters from two manufacturers of voting machines outlining their policy regarding the loan of voting machines to municipalities for experimental purposes were read to the council and accepted without action.

The Shoup Voting Machine company of Philadelphia reported that it had loaned machines to some cities in years past when the company felt that circumstances justified it. The Automatic Voting Machine company of Jamestown, N. Y. reported that it had not loaned machines to cities since the war.

At the last meeting of the council, it was voted to rent 17 machines from the Automatic Voting Machine company for a period of one year to try the machines in at least two elections. The rental is $150 per machine, which could be applied to the purchase price later if the city decided to buy the machines.

The council plans to use the voting machines at least twice in 1950 elections and then to submit the matter to the voters to decide whether the machines should be purchased.

The council referred to City Engineer Loren Jenkins a complaint from William Koppes, 812 Ludington street, that commercial vehicles have been blocking the alley in the rear of his building.

Red Cross Aids Attend Meeting

Mrs. Brook Outlines Volunteers' Program

Mrs. Ferd Brook, volunteer service representative for the national Red Cross, met yesterday with chairmen of Delta county volunteer groups to conduct orientation for Red Cross work.

At a noon luncheon in the House of Ludington, Mrs. Brook met with officials and service chairmen of the chapter, and oriented leaders in the first aid unit, home nursing, production, nutrition and budget planning.

Last night Gray Ladies who are re-activating and new volunteers met with the representative for a three-hour orientation course.

Attending the noon luncheon, at which Mrs. Brook stressed the importance of Red Cross volunteers in the community, were Mrs. Dorothy Boyle and Miss Hilma Asikainen of the health department, Dr. Thomas McInerney, Mrs. Sam Ham, Clarence Moore, chapter chairman, Dr. Gardner Eversole, publicity chairman, Mrs. M. D. Perring, Mrs. N. H. Witham, executive secretary, Miss Alice McMartin, chapter treasurer, and Mrs. Joseph Van Arnam of Gladstone.

Mrs. Boyle and Miss Asikainen will teach workers in the home nursing groups. Mrs. Sam Ham is chairman of the production and nutrition committees, and Doctor McInerney will assist in teaching Gray Ladies.

Mrs. Gunnar Norby, Mrs. Charlotte LeClerc, Mrs. Margaret Koeck, Mrs. Alice Ibsen, Mrs. Carol Pearce, Mrs. Fred Swank, Mrs. Mabel Miller, Mrs. Margaret Skinner, Mrs. Elizabeth Morin, Mrs. David Alperovitz, Mrs. Ivan Edwards, Gray Ladies chairman, Mrs. M. D. Perring, Gray Ladies co-chairman, and Mrs. N. H. Witham attended the Gray Ladies orientation class last night.

Gray Ladies will meet once weekly for a training session. All are asked to meet at 2 p. m. next Wednesday to tour units in which Gray Ladies will serve.

Delta County Red Cross chapter is making a special effort to organize volunteer service groups to assist in the county. In addition to the above mentioned leaders, George Grenholm and Clarence Moore have been appointed to teach first aid.

Ore Shipping Races Winter

Last Boat Leaves Here Dec. 10

Vitally needed iron ore continued to flow from Escanaba and other Upper Lakes ports today in the last lap of the race against winter weather in one of the latest shipping seasons in many years.

Seven boats are scheduled to arrive at Escanaba between now and Dec. 9, with the final clearing of two steamers set for Dec. 10.

Lee McMillan, C. & N. W. dock agent, today said the last trainload of ore to arrive in Escanaba this year will come in tonight from the Menominee range. Movement of ore to the C. & N. W. docks from the Marquette range ended with arrival of an ore train last night.

Ore loading at Escanaba is being accomplished under the usual late-season difficulties, with the ore being thawed in the cars in the C. & N. W. steaming plant near Danforth hills; and additional thawing being done with hot water when the cars of ore arrive on the dock.

The season was delayed because of the strike that closed the mines and the steel industry on Oct. 1 and halted the movement of iron ore for six weeks.

Following is the schedule of boat arrivals at Escanaba for the remainder of the season: Presque Isle, tonight at midnight; L. C. Smith, Saturday afternoon; E. W. Mudry, Monday; Hartwell and G. R. Fink, Dec. 9; A. E. Heckin and C. C. Conway, Dec. 9.

Last year the ore shipping season closed Nov. 30, 10 days earlier than the scheduled closing this year.

Merritt E. Sibole, 71, Brampton Floriculturist, Dies At His Nursery Home

Gladstone, Dec. 2—Merritt E. Sibole, 71, well-known floriculturist and truck gardener of Brampton, died at his Sibole Nursery home about five miles northwest of Gladstone last night.

Sibole was familiarly known in Escanaba, Munising, Marquette and elsewhere in this portion of the Upper Peninsula for his wide-spread sale of gladioli, other flowers and truck gardening plants.

He was born June 3, 1878, near Springfield, Ill., the son of the Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Sibole, and he came to Delta county about 30 years ago. He served from 1919 to 1934 as county agricultural agent in Menominee county, but he returned to Delta county in 1934 and had been in the floral and truck gardening business at his nursery ever since.

He was married in 1907 to Fannie Anglemier of Goldfield, Nev. Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Beatrice, who is a musician in New York City.

He was a member of the United Brethren in Christ and of the Masonic lodge in Marinette, Wis.

The body was taken to the Kelley funeral home. Arrangements have not yet been completed.

The fire was discovered at 10:55 p. m. after the flames had broken through the roof.

Gladstone Woman Arrives From Sweden

New York.—Signe Frederickson of Gladstone arrived in New York yesterday aboard the Swedish-American liner Gripsholm on a voyage from Gothenburg, Sweden.

The vessel carrying 992 passengers, who represented thirteen different nationalities, was one day late due to battling heavy seas during most of the voyage.

Among the travelers of prominence was Count Felix von Luckner, German sea raider and naval officer of World War I, who came here on a lecture tour.

Police Recover Stolen Weapon

Young Man Arrested With Armory Gun

Leonard L. Eagle, 24, of 1316 N. 22nd street, was arrested by local police this morning in possession of a .38 revolver, one of three guns stolen recently from the National Guard armory.

Eagle denied any connection with the armory theft. He told the police officers that he purchased the gun for $5 from a stranger at a local tavern.

Eagle was picked up by police after receiving a report that he was in possession of an unregistered gun. After the arrest, it was discovered that the gun was one of the weapons stolen from the armory.

Police are continuing their investigation of the case.

Sex Perverts Are Dangerous

Worst Crime Wave,
FBI Declares

By ROBERT C. RUARK
San Francisco. — The recent wave of horrid slayings of children by perverts finally has touched off a demand, long overdue, for more drastic punishment of habitual sex offenders.

It has been pretty well proved that this kind of loathsome abnormality makes a potential killer.

California parents, since this last rash of fiendish killing was culminated by the rape-murder of an 18-months old girl, are almost afraid to allow their children out of sight and justly so.

The newspapers have joined in a frank campaign to make a pervert more than a misdemeanor by a maladjusted creep. They want to rewrite the extremely lenient laws to put effective restraints on habitual offenders.

Ex-Convicts Repeat
Almost invariably a look at the record of perverted killers shows a long list of "minor" offenses—peeping, exposure, molesting of children. Yet in the case of a 32-year old Los Angeles man, who admitted four criminal attacks against an 11-year-old girl, this gay fellow received a sentence of only four years—despite the fact that he is an ex-convict with tenancies in both San Quentin and Folsom.

He gets out again, possibly with time off for good behavior, to remain the same menace so long as he is loose.

In one of the recent Los Angeles slayings of a six-year old child, the murderer had been at large for six months after being arrested for molesting another child. He had jumped bail and no arm of the law seemingly cared enough to gather him in again.

We had here in San Francisco some time back the case of a man—a 49-year old carpenter—who attacked a six year old girl and was identified by a woman who saw him entice the child into his car. This man had a record of three previous imprisonments for sex offenses.

What Is Rape?
Yet the San Francisco police chief refused to charge him with rape, saying, "How can you prove rape on a six-year old girl?" It was the bitter assumption of the local press that the fact the baby had contracted a venereal disease was proof enough.

In this state a previously convicted sex offender is guilty only of a misdemeanor if he is found loitering near a school, yet his presence near that school is as clear a specification of felonious intent as if he were found parked in front of a bank with a machine gun in his hand. There are the imprisonment penalties for repeat offenders in other categories of crime—possibly criminals who are less potentially dangerous to community welfare than the drooling degenerate who gets off with a reprimand.

Sex Crime Wave
According to the FBI, the nation's worst wave of sex crimes is under way, with a grim prospect of gaining momentum, unless some sharper teeth are grafted onto existing statutes. J. Edgar Hoover is on record as advocating medical and psychiatric treatment for early offenders, with permanent isolation for repeat offenders.

Mr. Hoover places a heavy share of blame on the courts and parole boards for the current upswing in pervert-inspired crime. Generally the courts set ridicu-

Bishop Noa Will Speak

Menominee Deanery
Meets Dec. 11

His Excellency, the Most Rev. Thomas L. Noa, D. D., bishop of the Marquette Catholic diocese, will preside at a meeting of the Menominee deanery of the Council of Catholic women in Hermansville Dec. 11.

About 300 Catholic women are expected to attend the meeting, to be held in the newly-renovated church of Saint Mary at Hermansville. The altar society will be hostess to delegations from 13 Menominee county units and their pastors.

The Very Rev. Joseph Dunleavy, diocesan chancellor and moderator of the diocesan council of Catholic women, will speak on the pertinence of the 1950 program outlined by the bishop, and the Rev. David Spelgatti, editor of the diocesan weekly, will launch a campaign for the paper.

Mrs. Fred Marchant, president of the altar society, will welcome the groups and Miss Mary Meinberg will preside at the meeting. The church program will be concluded with a pontifical benediction by the bishop, assisted by Rev. Victor Karch of Menominee as deacon and Rev. Francis Geynet of Menominee as sub-deacon. The Right Msgr. John T. Holland, P. D., will be guest of honor.

Bishop Noa will be the sole speaker at a 5:30 banquet to be served at the community club building. The public has been invited to the banquet. Reservations can be made with the altar society of St. Mary's church at Hermansville.

St. Mary choir will sing the Baraga anthem and other numbers,

Deer Kill About Normal At 100,000

Lansing, Dec. 2 (AP)—About a normal deer kill of about 100,000, less hunters in the lower peninsula and fewer violations was the way conservation officers summed up the 1949 deer season which ended Wednesday.

Officers across the Upper Peninsula said that despite bad weather, the kill was mostly normal, though in the Baraga district it was rated light.

There were as many hunters as last year across the Straits, the officers said. They reported making 433 arrests and recovering 72 illegal deer.

Officers issued 1,120 permits to return deer through Wisconsin compared with 1,361 last year.

A total of 10,519 deer were brought across the Straits, compared with 9,382 last year and 11,008 in 1947.

In the northern lower peninsula, the numbers of hunters were down in all districts, but the total kill was estimated at about the same as last year. This will mean that the hunter success ratio of the northern lower peninsula will rise.

Robert Bruce of Bark River shot his buck, a nine-point, 200-pounder, back of Mashek, on Wednesday, just 15 minutes before the season closed. He was hunting from Harold Bruce's camp.

A one-act play directed by Mrs. Karl E. Gray, and several numbers by the Escanaba Knights of Columbus and directed by Father Louis Cappel, will be offered. In addition, Mrs. Fred Swank will present a humorous Christmas reading and the Escanaba high school string ensemble will play Christmas music.

Atty. Ross D. Thompson Stricken At Lansing

Lansing, Dec. 2 (AP)—Ross D. Thompson, 44, Lansing attorney prominent in state legal and veterans affairs, died suddenly here last night.

He was stricken by a heart attack after shoveling snow. Thompson was a member of the legal staff of the Ingham county grand jury headed by Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash which convicted numerous former legislators and lobbyists on graft charges.

He served with the Seventh Bomber Command in the Pacific area. A member of the local American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars post, he was active in state veterans affairs.

Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—Coal dealers and industry sources agreed today the miners' three-day week presented no immediate fuel shortage threat.

The city's coal supply was described as generally ample.

Motorist Jailed For Drunk Driving Following Accident

Wallace C. Vertz of Manistique today elected to serve 30 days in jail rather than pay a fine of $50 and $4.30 costs imposed by Justice A. T. Sohlberg of Gladstone when Vertz pleaded guilty to a charge of operating his auto while under the influence of alcohol.

Earl Davenport, also of Manistique, a passenger in the Vertz car, pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly and paid a fine of $5 and costs.

State police arrested Vertz on complaint of Charles DuRoy, Gladstone auto dealer, after a collision between autos driven by DuRoy and Vertz on US-2 near Cooks. Damage to the DuRoy car was estimated by the officers at $700.

Fourth Disruption In A Single Year

THE nation's coal miners are working on a short shift again—the fourth time this year that they have responded to the orders of John L. Lewis to walk off their jobs. There is less than three weeks supply of coal on hand and the winter season is only starting.

The recent coal strike and the steel strike caused a sharp setback to industry throughout the nation and even now a number of big factories are idle because of a shortage of basic materials.

Lewis has not been specific about his new demands upon the coal operators or, at least, if he has made specific demands they have not been made public. However, it is known that he wants a substantial increase in the miners welfare fund, perhaps as much as 35c a ton increase. If granted, this boost will be passed on to the consumers of fuel in the form of higher coal prices.

The coal mine operators have vigorously opposed any new increases that would push coal prices higher because the industry has already lost a part of its market to competitive fuels, particularly coal and gas.

The miners' present health and welfare fund, supported entirely by a 20c a ton royalty on coal produced, is not actuarially sound. Benefit payments are far too high for the income from the royalty payments. Mr. Lewis knew that, of course, when he instituted the benefit plan but he felt that he held a club potent enough to force an upward revision in the royalty system when the occasion required it.

The repeated action of Lewis in calling the coal miners off their jobs four times in a single year should convince the lawmakers that something will have to be done about breaking up the biggest monopoly of all in this country—the labor monopoly. The government's anti-trust suit against the A&P food company is almost laughable in view of the situation that exists today in the labor monopoly.

Lewis not only controls the coal miners by dictatorial rule but indirectly he can control the entire economic life of the nation. Industry cannot operate for long without coal to provide essential power.

Thomas Deserves No Sympathy

REP. J. Parnell Thomas of New Jersey, charged with federal payroll padding, has withdrawn his plea of not guilty and has pleaded nolo contendere in federal court. The plea is simply a legalistic phrase which means that Rep. Thomas has chosen not to contest the government's accusation. In effect, it is an admission of guilt without actually confessing guilt.

The change in Rep. Thomas' plea to the court obviously was made in recognition of the weight of evidence that the justice department had accumulated against the congressman. The evidence showed conclusively that Thomas has padded his office payroll at government expense and that the payrollers in turn were forced to kick back substantial payments to Thomas.

The evidence further showed that Thomas, aided by his secretary, carried fictitious persons on the payroll of the house un-American activities committee, which Thomas headed, and that these paychecks went to the congressman.

Rep. Thomas has pleaded for mercy from the court on the grounds of ill health. He faces a possible maximum sentence of 32 years in jail and $40,000 in fines when he reports for sentencing Dec. 9.

The congressman deserves little consideration from the court. He has violated his oath of office to an incredible degree. His actions have served to bring suspicion upon the integrity of congress itself. He should promptly offer his resignation to the congress and if he fails to do so, the house of representatives should move to impeach him.

4-H Clubbers Win Livestock Honors

THE grand champion steer of the International Livestock exposition in Chicago was auctioned off yesterday and brought a record price of $13,800 at $11.50 a pound. But that's not the big story of the livestock show.

The real thrill for thousands of spectators at the show and for many thousands of persons throughout the country was the fact that the grand championship prize was won by youngsters of the 4-H club of Pecos county, Texas. These youngsters competing with the outstanding cattlemen of the world won the blue ribbon with a steer that 4-H club members had raised and prepared for exhibition at the show.

The outstanding work that is being done in 4-H club programs throughout the United States shows conclusively the great value of the farm club movement. Here in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan the 4-H club program is moving forward with tremendous strides, teaching rural youngsters the best techniques of good farming and rural living.

The 4-H program, for instance, is spotlighted at the U. P. State Fair and club members from all counties of the peninsula participate to demonstrate their skills. A year ago a 4-H dormitory was constructed at the fairgrounds and this year a 4-H kitchen and mess hall was constructed. Next year it is planned to build a 4-H dairy barn if state funds are appropriated for that purpose.

Football Post-Mortem

THE waning football season finds the pundits poring over the record books to choose All-America players, national mythical champs and speculate on what would have happened had Oklahoma U. been matched against Notre Dame. But no post-mortem is really complete unless time is called to evaluate America's collegiate autumnal madness in terms of education, a relationship that is too often forgotten in the swirl of flying cleats and winged formations.

What about football and the purposes of higher education of which the game supposedly is a part and presumably is meant to serve? Though criticism of the sport for its crass commercialism and almost universal subsidization of players will bring hordes of fans to their feet in vociferous defense, it has for years given rise to many hot debates with much said on both sides of the question.

A principal charge of the opponents of the present system is that high-pressure football is fundamentally anti-scholastic, cheapening our schools as citadels of learning and culture. Proponents contend that the game builds esprit de corps in the student body and alumni, bringing schools fame and fortune that foster enrollments and provide funds for educational expansion.

WHITTLING

The countryman is not a professional do-gooder although he is continuing his up-to-the-present unsuccessful campaign to teach his peers to eat their pie with the point away from them, so they can conclude with a mouthful of juicy filling instead of a mess of dry crust. The more or less progressive debilitation of our society in the last half century can be attributed to a number of factors. People do not have time to enjoy either themselves or life these tense days. It may be because folks have given up eating hulled corn for supper; possibly the decline in popularity of long ones in winter has deleteriously affected dispositions; maybe we have lost something in accepting so much ready-made entertainment via radios and moving pictures.

We think male citizens would regain control of nervous systems and recapture perspectives if whittling came back in favor. Give a man a clear piece of pine, cedar or ash, a sharp knife and a comfortable chair in the old farm shop, and he can put in a pleasant session getting caught up with himself. There are two kinds of whittling and each serves a needed purpose. There are times when a man just wants to whittle; he likes to see the curlicues of wood curl back from the stick; he likes to feel the sharp blade cut through the clean grain. Doing this, a man can sit and whittle and think, or he can just sit and whittle.

The other kind of whittling has a purpose. There is always need for a few teeth for wooden rakes. A man can use a new handle for his apple picking basket; or he needs a new peg or two for the harness room. Each type of whittling serves a purpose and good men with a knife know that each gives its own satisfaction. It might be that national and international goings-on would reach a higher level of accomplishment if our statesmen and politicians took up whittling. Many a reasonable compromise has been worked out in grain elevator, country store or village blacksmith shop while men kept up their whittling. We respectfully urge on the United Nations and our State Department that they look to their knives and a supply of clear-grained wood.—By Haydn Pearson.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS TO WIND UP THE WEEK

Bryan, Ohio: On entering Toledo, we noticed signs on food stores in the colored section reading "Chitterlings For Sale." What is (or are) chitterlings? No one seems to know.—B. W.

A. Chitterlings is a Southern dish of hog intestines, cleaned, chopped into bits, and fried in butter until crisp. Chitterlings is a favorite dish of both white and colored Southerners at "hog-killing time." The dictionary pronunciation is: CHIT-er-lings. But that pronunciation is unknown in the south. The word is usually spelled "chitt-lins" and pronounced: CHIT-linz.

Climax Springs: Is the word llano, which is used in the Southwestern states, related to the word "land"?—P. F. R.

A. No. Llano is Spanish for "plain; level, treeless country." The Latin American pronunciation is: YAH-nor. Southwestern Americans say LAH-noh, or more frequently, LAN-oh.

Churchill Is Unusual Man

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

London.—In a characteristic passage in his autobiographical work, "My Early Life," Winston Churchill describes one of the great adventures of his young days. That was the cavalry charge at the battle of Omdurman in the Sudan, one of the last occasions in history when horses and riders charged across the desert in mortal combat with the Arab foe.

"In one respect," Mr. Churchill wrote, "a cavalry charge is very like ordinary life. So long as you are all right, firmly in your saddle, your horse in hand, and well armed, lots of enemies will give you a wide berth. But as soon as you have lost a stirrup, have a rein cut, have dropped your weapon, are wounded, or your horse is wounded, then is the moment when from all quarters enemies rush upon you."

Embarking on his 75th year Churchill is still charging at his enemies with the same daring, the same impetuosity and personal courage. The enemy is Socialism, the Labor party, regimentation. Against these foes the fire and passion of old are directed.

A LAW UNTO HIMSELF

Among many of the younger leaders of the Conservative party, however, there are serious doubts as to whether this fire and passion out of the past are the proper tactic for the present. Churchill is unpredictable, tempestuous, a law unto himself. And with that temperament he leaves a great deal to be desired as the leader of one of Britain's two major parties in these troubled times.

It goes without saying that such doubts are never expressed publicly. Churchill is a monument, the living embodiment of history. So long as he wants to be he may go on being the leader of the Conservative party, and there is not the slightest indication that he intends to give over the reins.

He is too shrewd a politician not to sense the misgivings of some of the men around him. He may even enjoy making them squirm a little, as when he referred in a recent speech at a huge party rally to "this little book," the little book being the Conservative handbook called "The Right Road for Britain," prepared with long and loving care as the principal campaign document in the coming election. Some of his listeners got the impression that perhaps he had not even read it.

Maintaining a solid and determined hold on the party, Churchill has tended to throw any possible rivals in the shade. Thus, if it were not for Churchill, Anthony Eden, who served so ably as foreign minister, would have a better chance of rising to pre-eminent position.

Winston, as he is affectionately known to almost everyone, is undoubtedly aware of this, too. According to those who know him, it may even give him a certain ironic satisfaction.

"Why, sir," he is fond of saying in his best Churchillian manner, "when it becomes a matter of age, we must not be too much influenced by the trifling standards of the present. There is Gladstone. Gladstone was my majesty's first officer at the not inconsiderable age of 84."

EDEN IS 52

Eden is 52. If Churchill is to rival the record of Gladstone and be prime minister at the age of 84, then Eden must wait another decade. It is not a cheerful prospect.

Well-informed opinion here holds that Winston does indeed want to occupy No. 10 Downing street again. He took his defeat in 1945 as a deep personal affront; an example of gross ingratitude. He is said to believe that the people of Britain have now had time to repent their error and they will be in a mood to right their wrong judgment.

No one, except Churchill himself who carefully keeps his own counsel on the matter of his future, can say this with any positiveness. He is capable of the grand gesture of renunciation. But it would not be wholly in character.

His primary interest remains, as it always has been, foreign affairs. He has taken the lead in organizing the Council of Europe, which may be one reason why Labor Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin is distinctly cool to the concept of European union.

As a master through the years of holding the public eye, Churchill fighting for European union has made drama and headlines. But there are those who wonder whether, if he were to take responsibility again, he might not at least temporarily sidetrack this interest for his original love, which is the empire and commonwealth.

Winston Churchill is unique among living men. No one remotely touches him. And it is a strange commentary on the times that the longer he lives, the more remote he seems from contemporary ways.

"They invited I" or "They invited myself"? Correct: They invited my wife and me to the party.

The rules for the personal pronouns are so simple that it amazes me that so many people are uncertain whether to say I or me, he or him, we or us, etc. This is all we need to know to use the pronouns correctly.

I, you, he, she, we, they, create the action, as, I gave the book to Jim; you took the book; he borrowed the book; she read the book; we returned the book; they forgot the book.

Me, you, him, us, them, receive the action, as: Give the book to me; they gave the book to you and me; they gave the book to him and her; they gave the book to us girls; the boys asked for the book and we gave it to them.

An understanding of the personal pronouns is essential to good English. Mr. Colby's leaflet, C-22, is used in hundreds of classrooms because of its simplicity and common sense. That's All for the Present

Good Evening By Clint Dunathan

YOUR TOWN—Whatever the town you live in, it is your town, at least for the period of your residence there.

And because it is your town you should be interested in comments on how low cost improvements can bring big returns to you and to your community. These comments were made by Lawrence B. Perkins, designing architect and one of the four partners of Perkins and Will, in a recent meeting with the Escanaba board of education.

You probably know, of course, that the school board plans to hire Perkins and Will to make preliminary plans for the proposed new Escanaba Senior high school.

PERSONALITY—Perkins, like his firm, is big—but he has a pleasantly informal (sometimes flippant) deportment that is probably typical of his approach to the traditionally formal in architecture. He refuses to be stodgy.

His blue eyes twinkled when he explained to the school board the difference between harmony and ugliness in building design.

"It's the same difference that exists between a homely girl and a beautiful girl. It is not a matter of materials. Sometimes the homely girl has too much material. Rather it is a simple matter of arrangement of those materials into a pleasing harmony."

WHOLE PICTURE—Your town—any town—can present a pleasantly harmonious appearance or it can look dispirited and down at the heel.

As Perkins pointed out, it is the impression of harmonious arrangement that is important. And this can be accomplished, so far as the home owner is concerned, with a low-cost investment in shrubs, flowers, paint, and window boxes.

Public buildings can carry through the plan-for-beauty program by careful attention to good design when they are constructed.

Perkins and another of the Perkins and Will partners, John C. Goodall, the firm business manager, met not only the Escanaba board of education but also the city council and planning commission.

It is with considerable pride that we report their favorable reaction to the city's master plan of zoning, a guide to future city development.

CITY BEAUTIFUL—The thought and planning that has attended the preparation of the master plan can, in the future, go hand in hand with good architectural design to help make Escanaba one of the most attractive cities in the state.

Perkins was particularly impressed with the Ludington Park development. The proposed bath house, new water station, and state office building planned to be located in the east section of the city should be in harmony architecturally and will materially improve the appearance of that area, Perkins said.

COMPLIMENTARY—Longtime residents of Escanaba take its appearance pretty much for granted. Visitors often voice compliments in reaction to viewing its wide streets, attractive tree-shaded residential streets, and fine parks.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Miss Marjorie Taylor and Miss Betty Boyle have returned to their studies in the nursing school at St. Luke's hospital in Racine, following a holiday visit here at their homes.

Gladstone—More than 400 girls from Delta, Schoolcraft and Menominee counties are meeting here today for the fourth annual Older Girls' conference.

Manistique—Frank Bouchard has been appointed county supervisor of social security by the state social welfare commission.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Monson of 305 South 18th street were honored this week with a joint party for members of the North Star Lodge and the Morning Star lodge, in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. More than 500 persons attended the party. Mr. and Mrs. Monson were married here Nov. 26, 1904 and have eight children.

Escanaba—M. J. Rice, who has been associated with the Bonifas Lumber company for the past 13 years, has left for Milwaukee where he will make his home. Mr. and Mrs. Rice and their daughter Elizabeth plan to vacation in California before settling in Milwaukee.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Peterson are the parents of a son born Dec. 1 in St. Francis hospital.

We are today in the ludicrous position of telling other countries they must balance their budgets as a condition of our aid or loans, while we ourselves are badly out of balance.

W. Randolph Burgess, executive chairman of the National City Bank of New York.

I'm for roll-call votes on all civil rights bills in the second session of the 81st congress. Then we can weed out the faithful from the unfaithful and the voters can decide what to do about it in the 1950 election.

—Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D., Minnesota.

Mrs. F. H. Batzer of Ferndale, Mich., a visitor to Escanaba last summer, was so strongly impressed with one section of the city that she wrote to the Chamber of Commerce about it.

"We drove into Escanaba on the road called Memory Lane. It was an experience that neither my husband nor I will forget. Looking ahead, the road seemed to have no earthly ending, but gave us the feeling that it would take us on and on into the heavens. Those tall straight trees on either side seemed like sentinels standing at attention, welcoming us."

"While in your city my husband remarked how nice and wide your main street is. It gives your town a spaciousness that many places lack. Their business districts seem so crowded."

EXAMINATION—All of us like to hear nice things said about the town we live in—yet often we are unable to see the need for further improvements.

Escanaba's need, to make it brighter and more attractive, are those things that cost little money, as Perkins pointed out:

The pride in ownership that calls for a clean and freshly-painted look; flowers and lawns, shrubs and trees; and premises that are neatly kept.

The public building program to come is a matter of community pride; what the individual property owner does is his personal contribution and responsibility.

Voting Machines

Dear Editor:

At the last regular meeting of the city council a petition bearing around 1500 names, mostly taxpayers, was handed to the city council for consideration. The petition requested that they submit to the voters in the April election the proposition of the city purchasing voting machines.

No favorable action was taken by the council. It seems strange that some time back a petition with only a few hundred names on it was submitted to the council asking them to submit to the voters the proposition of changing to daylight saving time. The council granted this. There was no expense involved to the taxpayer on this issue. Now when the voting machine issue comes up and involves a big expense to the taxpayer, the city council did not take favorable action. There must be a reason for their action.

Instead of purchasing voting machines at the large expense of the taxpayers money, why not expend the money on worthy causes here in the city.

What about the $500 donation that was asked for the community chest? The money to be spent for worthy causes such as the cod liver oil for the children that need it and many other things.

What about the $500 donation that was asked for to put up a hockey rink for the children? What about the paving of Fifth avenue South, a direct route to 23rd street? This would relieve the congestion of travel on Ludington street. The city spends the taxpayers' money on grading, oil and tarring Fifth avenue south during the summer and as soon as a good wind comes up the people living on that route can't see for dust as there is a lot of traffic on that street.

There are other projects too numerous to mention that could be finished. It is hoped that the city council can at their next regular meeting give further consideration to the petition that was submitted on the voting machine issue before they pass final judgment.

Myron W. Legg,
318 South 10th St.

So They Say

The funds we spend on resource development, on creating new opportunities for better living, on stabilizing our economy, will accomplish more for permanent peace than all the armies and atom bombs the mind can conceive.—Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney, D., Wyoming.

If this generation does not tackle and find a solution to great abundance on one hand and tragic lack on the other, then we should stand indicted before world opinion.—Murray T. Lincoln, Ohio co-operative movement leader.

Perfecting both the machinery and the practice of collective bargaining . . . offers the surest way of preventing most labor-management ills.—Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, former economic adviser to Mr. Truman.

Nobody can beat us on the high seas. We intend to keep the best navy in the world.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Young hero of the nation's capital last week was football star Leo Spero, who led Wilson high school to a one-point victory in the championship high school play-off for the District of Columbia. Leo, who waded down a snowy field to score touchdown after touchdown, was the toast of the capital's sports world.

Unsung and unheralded was another hero in the Spero family—his father. Operator of a restaurant, Spero's senior citizenly gave a job to the secretary of Congressman Parnell Thomas when she was indicted on a technical charge of arranging for salary kickbacks.

Miss Helen Campbell finally decided that her boss, the chairman of the un-American activities committee was being un-American himself in requiring alleged members of his office staff to pay their salaries back to him, and reported this to the justice department. The justice department, in order to show a conspiracy, had to indict not only the congressman who ordered the kickbacks, but his secretary who carried out his orders.

Out of a job, 64 years old and under indictment as a reward for her patriotism, Miss Campbell finally got employment at the Silver Fox restaurant, where Jim Spero, a believer in clean government, gave her employment.

Note—Miss Campbell was later exonerated when the government dismissed all charges against her. Another unsung hero is Miss Campbell's attorney, John R. Fitzpatrick, who defended her without remuneration or reward.

CLERGY AND LOBBYISTS

It looks as if the real estate lobby had now succeeded in enlisting the clergymen of the nation—as their opponents.

Hitherto, the clergy have not been particularly active one way or the other regarding the real estate lobby. But the other day, in Chicago, Kendall Cady, head of the Institute of Real Estate Management, told his fellow realtors to get their clergymen to bring pressure on congress against rent control. The insinuation was that the clergy could be used.

Reactions from leading clergymen was prompt and unanimous—and from all religions. Typical reply was that of Monsignor John O'Grady of Washington, who said:

"I haven't seen any minister in any city of this country who would be willing to join Mr. Cady against rent control. The clergy have the interest of the people at heart."

NO GERMAN ARMY

While Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson was emphatically telling Europe that the United States would not rearm Germany, Field Marshal Montgomery, the British war hero, was quietly lobbying in Washington for German rearmament.

In backstage conversations with U. S. military leaders, Montgomery argued that Russia has already organized and indoctrinated a German army in Prussia of 350,000 ex-enemy soldiers. They have orders, he said, to take over all Germany the minute the Western Allies pull out of West Germany. Therefore, he maintained that an opposing German army must be built up in the West.

Montgomery made this argument to Chief of Staff Omar Bradley—among others. But Bradley, arriving in Germany, backed up Secretary Johnson that Germany would not be rearmed.

Perhaps the biggest reason for Johnson's stand boils down to this: West German leaders have made it clear they will not fight in the next war.

They figure that in any clash between Russia and the United States they would have everything to gain by sitting it out. If they fought, Germany would be demolished again. If they didn't fight, they might be in a position to recapture the leadership of Europe—after the war.

In brief, the Germans will be glad to have American arms if we want to send them over, but, in any showdown, those arms will not be used to help us.

JUST PLAIN MONTY

The girls in General Bradley's office were all aflutter over the visit of Britain's war hero, Field Marshal Viscount Sir Archibald Montgomery, but couldn't agree whether to address him as "field marshal" or "viscount."

Finally Mary Pitcairn, Bradley's personal secretary, put the question up to the general himself.

"What do you call Montgomery," she asked.

"I call him Monty," replied Bradley, laconically.

JOHN L. ROARS

John L. Lewis directed almost three hours of oratory at Federal Conciliator Cy Ching and George Love, president of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal company, during their secret meeting at Winchester, Va.

Most of Lewis' oratory was inspired by Love's objection to the "willing and able" clause in a new mine contract. This clause permits coal miners to stage a full or partial strike if Lewis deems they are not willing or able to work.

Love also demanded a new method of administering the miners' pensions-and-welfare fund; but all he got from Lewis was a tongue-lashing.

"Nothing was served by your coming down here," roared the mine union chief. "I know the banker interests who sent you. You're nothing but an errand boy for these financial lords who wish to enslave the men who toil underground."

"Well, sir, you can go back and tell your masters that they might as well sign up now. Every day you delay, it will cost you more. What we are asking for now is only the beginning of a program to get for the coal miners their just due."

War Against Communism

Labor Is Communism's Biggest Battleground

By PETER EDSON

KFA Washington Correspondent

There is no more clearly-defined front in the conflict between left and right today than in the field of American labor. The CIO, particularly knows it is in a fight, with no fewer than 10 unions doing their level damndest to retain Red-influenced leadership.

This is no new struggle. Like every other aspect of the Communist war, it dates back to the earliest times of the movement in this country; specifically, to the days before World War I. Then Nicolai Lenin and Leon Trotsky were in America, primarily as political refugees, secondarily as explorers of another land possibly ripe for Marxism reform.

They believed that to rule the workingman was to rule the nation. This was the essence of what was then called Bolshevism. When the Russian revolution had eliminated the Czar, the American Communist Party immediately set about to seek the destruction of American labor, by disintegrating the AFL.

Samuel Gompers, AFL head, was so alarmed at the wave of strikes—notably against Big Steel and the 12-hour day, and in the case of the Boston police who created a reign of terror by their strike for higher pay—that he hurried home from Paris, where he had been advising President Wilson at the Peace Conference.

Wilson's return found labor so rebellious that he called a conference of management and union leaders. Labor's demands were made by Gompers: the 8-hour day, right to organize, collective bargaining, free speech and a minimum wage. U. S. Steel teed off in a flat refusal to bargain; the Gompers forces walked out.

Munising News

Eastern Star Holds Christmas Supper

Munising—The annual Christmas supper and program of the Order of the Eastern Star was held Thursday night in the Masonic hall. A supper was served at 6:15, after which a program was given. Members exchanged gifts and contributed toys and canned goods to the community Christmas basket for the needy.

Members of the program committee were Mrs. Ruth Wood and Mrs. Edith Wickstrom, co-chairmen, Mrs. Una Walters, Miss Evelyn Ebbeson and Mrs. Rhea Tracey.

On the lunch committee were Mrs. Agnes E. Jackson and Mrs. Thelma Bakkum, co-chairmen, and Mrs. Winifred Moote, Mrs. E. Zelma Norton, Mrs. Alice Mazza, Mrs. Anna Hurst and Miss Helen Norberg.

Graduate Nurses Hold Bake Sale

Munising—The Munising Graduate Nurses club has turned the proceeds of its recent bake sale over to Miss Beulah Wright, superintendent of Munising hospital, for the purchase of a surgical dressing cart.

MUNISING BRIEFS

A rummage sale will be held Friday at the Legion club by the DAV Auxiliary.

Temperatures in Munising this past week averaged 25.1 degrees. The high reading was 48 and the low 9. A snowfall of 6.2 inches brought the season's total to 28.6 inches.

Henry Gerow is a patient in St. Luke's hospital, Marquette.

MOOSE TO INITIATE

Munising—Several new members will be initiated into the Munising Moose lodge at a program to be held Sunday afternoon at 2 at the Moose hall. A game dinner will be served after the initiation. Murel Miller is chairman of the dinner committee.

The Commies were made happy by this. A million, or one-fourth of membership, quit organized labor. The Communists quickly organized unions to gobble up as many of these renegades as possible.

The AFL first tried to get rid of the Communists who sneaked in in 1919 and 1920 when, in 1926, it formed a Committee for the Preservation of Trade Unionism. Some of the Reds in such craft unions as the painters and the miners were driven out. But no headway could be made among the fur, needlework, shoe and leather unions.

In that very year Ben Gold, who admittedly was and admittedly still is a Communist, led a bloody strike by his United Fur Workers. Goon squads swept through the New York fur district, breaking up more than 50 contract shops, bribing police who halfheartedly tried to curb them, and operating a torture chamber called "the Butcher Shop." Gold, incidentally, is still boss of the furriers.

Other great strikes of the period were those of the costmakers, estimated to have cost $35,000,000 exclusive of the split skulls, and at Passaic, N. J., where the Botany Mills were closed for more than a year.

After the crash in 1929, Communism gained some stature and was able to work more openly at organizing labor. Opposition to the leftists within union ranks, sapped by the depression's ghastly unemployment, virtually collapsed. Observers generally agree that for the 15 years between 1929 and the last months of the war, Communists had almost a free hand.

Communists supported Lewis when he led the United Mine Workers out to form the CIO at the tumultuous AFL convention of 1935. They quickly moved into the American Newspaper Guild, formed the year before, and when the new union affiliated with the CIO the job was made easier. By 1940 pinks dominated the Guild, with most of the support coming from the New York locals.

The Communists considered the Guild the key to the American labor union movement and to control of American public opinion as well. But by 1941 the Guild, by a referendum of its membership, had managed the first Communist housecleaning by an American labor union.

At the peak of their power in 1939, the Communists could claim 300 high officials in over 30 of the 40 American international unions. Ten years later they could claim control of only a dozen. They were the CIO internationals that supported Henry Wallace for President.

These represented a membership of 1,200,000, or about one-fifth of the CIO's total. Only a fraction of one per cent of this number could be counted as actual Communists. But at its 1949 National Convention, the CIO moved decisively to kick them all out and start over fresh with a clean anti-Communist slate.

The Electrical Workers—biggest of the left-wing unions—was expelled outright and its President Albert Fitzgerald kicked off the CIO executive committee. So was the Farm Equipment Workers, which had previously been ordered to merge with the Auto Workers and had refused. A new, non-Commie union of International Electrical Workers was chartered.

Trials were ordered for the other ten unions and nine of their leaders, with expulsion likely: Harry Bridges of the Longshoremen; Hugh Bryson of the Marine Cooks; Donald Henderson of the Food and Tobacco Workers; Joseph Selly of the Communications Assn.; J. F. Zurich of the Fishermen; Abraham Flaxer of the Public Workers; John Clark of the Mine-Mill Workers, and James Durkin of the Office & Professional Workers.

Complete Study Of Dairy Costs

130 U. P. Farmers Kept Records

What are the dairy farmer's costs? And what returns does he receive for his efforts?

For the first time the dairy farmer can come close to receiving answers to those questions as the result of a dairy cost study completed in the Upper Peninsula by Michigan State College with the cooperative assistance of 130 U. P. farmers in three typical areas.

Fourteen of those farmers were in Delta county, who with farmers in Dickinson and Menominee counties kept records for a 12-month period.

Purpose Of Study

The Delta-Dickinson-Menominee area typified the central U. P. section, while the other sections were studied with the cooperation of farmers in Luce-Mackinac-Chippewa, and Baraga-Houghton-Ontonagon.

Purpose of the study was to determine: 1—The costs and returns involved in producing milk on typical U. P. dairy farms; 2—Management practices affecting dairy costs and returns; 3—Costs in producing young stock and in keeping a bull; 4—The relationship of the dairy enterprise to the whole farm organization; and 5—Methods of increasing efficiency and income on dairy farms.

Each cooperating farmer completed cost and return records for the year.

On the basis of these records, a summary of the study shows a wide range in the organization and efficiency of dairy farms in the Upper Peninsula.

Although a few dairymen netted $2 for every hour spent on their cows, others failed to even pay for the other production costs and return was ordered tried, although its president, Ben Gold, was not because he admitted being a Communist and CIO President Philip Murray ruled him ineligible to hold office on the Executive Board.

This wholesale purge of the American labor movement is in line with CIO President Philip Murray's frequently stated belief that Communism has no real program for American labor. Its sole purpose is to promote the foreign policies of Soviet Russia by gaining control of unions, spreading dissent, creating chaos.

This is the program which real American workmen and women have finally been awakened to reject as opposed to their own best interests.

Tomorrow: Congress and the courts vs. Communism.

ceived no return for their labor.

The amount of labor required to care for a cow ranged from a low of 106 hours in the Delta-Dickinson-Menominee area to a high of 134 hours in the Baraga-Houghton-Ontonagon area. Larger average herd size contributed to this more efficient labor utilization in the first area. Labor made up from 23 to 30 per cent of total milk production costs.

Artificial Breeding

The ten least efficient butterfat producers in each area failed to pay for all production costs by 21 to 37 cents per pound.

The most efficient groups netted from 20 to 45 cents per pound. The most efficient producers had higher-producing cows, and in the Chippewa-Luce-Mackinac area in particular, received a higher price per pound of butterfat produced.

Introduction of artificial insemination into the U. P. area "shows promise of reducing breeding costs and increasing milk production per cow," the report reveals.

Thirty-seven farmers, depending entirely on artificial insemination, average $5.07 breeding costs per cow and heifer compared to $7.45 for 81 farmers using a bull.

Bark River-Harris Christmas Program Schedule Planned

Bark River—The principals of the Bark River-Harris schools met yesterday with Superintendent Leo L. Brunelle to formulate plans for Christmas programs in their respective schools.

As a result, the following plan will be followed: Bark River junior high, Mr. Raymond, principal, Wednesday afternoon program, December 21; Mrs. Kilb, principal, Perronville elementary, Wednesday afternoon, December 21; Wilsonville elementary, Mr. Constantineau, principal, evening program, Tuesday evening, December 20; Schaffer elementary, Mr. McInnis, principal, afternoon program, Wednesday, December 21; Sunny-side elementary, Mrs. L. Erickson, principal, afternoon program; Harris senior high, Miss Flynn, principal, afternoon program.

Christmas vacation will begin Wednesday afternoon, December 21, and school will reopen on January 4.

The various Parent Teacher associations will again cooperate with the Board of Education in making available candy and peanuts to the children. It was also decided to accept the invitation of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce to attend a rural Christmas party to be held at the junior high on December 10, at 2 p. m.

PARKE-DAVIS
VANILLA EXTRACT
SPECIAL

An Orchid, too!

That royal family, Orchidaceae, includes a member (vanilla planifolia), which has been highly prized for centuries in the culinary arts.

Blossoms of this plant lack the exquisite beauty of the florist's Orchid—the Queen of Flowers. However, its hidden charm lies in the flavoring principle contained in the beans.

Careful selection and blending of true vanilla beans by Parke-Davis give Vanilla Extract Special a delightful bouquet, and a rare delicacy.

It is a pure, high-grade, full-bodied, properly aged product—made without the added synthetics often used in imitation vanilla extracts.

Makes ProgressMany Herds Improved
By Modern Methods

The Schoolcraft County Artificial Breeders' Association is making good progress, reports Lawrence Sablack, manager, and Leland Pawley, secretary-treasurer of the association, at a recent board of directors meeting held in the county agricultural agent's office.

The secretary-treasurer's report showed that all equipment purchased by the association last spring has been paid for, all bills are paid and a small balance is on hand in the bank.

The inseminator's report shows that so far 229 cows in Schoolcraft County and the east part of Delta County have been bred artificially to some of the best dairy bulls alive today. Of these 229 cows, 112 cows conceived on first service, and 73 conceived on second service, and 13 conceived on third service. Thirty-one of the 229 cows, or 13.5 per cent of the cows, failed to conceive on one of the first three services. Figures for the whole state indicate that when less than 25 per cent fail to conceive on three services, the results can be considered very good.

The herds in which the largest number of cows have been bred are as follows:

Pawley Farms, Gulliver—17 cows bred artificially.

Mark Schnurer, Route 1, Manistique—15 cows bred artificially.

Lawrence Sablack, Route 1, Manistique—11 cows bred artificially.

Claude Segerstrom, Cooks—9 cows bred artificially.

One of the sixty outstanding bulls owned by the Michigan Artificial Breeders' Cooperative being used in Schoolcraft County is Belle-Grant Dad Rex, 871121. "Dad," as this bull is called, was used to breed over 3100 cows in Michigan during 1948. So far since last March, 17 cows in Schoolcraft County have been bred artificially by "Dad." Claude Segerstrom of Cooks had two cows bred by Dad, both of which conceived on first service. Pawley Farms of Gulliver, had three cows bred by Dad, two of which conceived.

Dad's U.S.D.A. proof shows that his first six tested daughters produced an average of 521 pounds of butterfat on twice a day milking. Dad comes from a very good cow family. He is the son of a 20 year old cow that produced 4916.6 pounds of butterfat in the ten years that she was on test. This cow has a daughter with a seven year old record of 597 pounds of fat, a granddaughter with a three year old record of 514 pounds of fat and a great-granddaughter with a two year old record of 339.9 pounds of fat. Dad and his dam have both transmitted high production.

Community Fund
Drive LaunchedCanvass Starts Dec.
13; Goal $5,000

An intensive community fund drive, with $5,000 as its objective will be launched in Manistique December 13 with various city organizations actively participating in the solicitation.

Committees from the Lions and Rotary clubs, will make the downtown solicitation while a thorough house to house canvass will be conducted by committees from the Manistique Women's Club, the two PTA groups and the Legion and VFW Auxiliaries. Don MacLean is general chairman of the effort.

This action was decided upon at a meeting at the directors room of the First National Bank Wednesday evening with delegations from more than a dozen civic, fraternal and municipal organizations present.

The beneficiaries of this drive will be the Boy Scout, Girl Scout and the Youth Center. The Scout programs, the sponsors of the drive state, are entirely dependent upon financial help of this sort and the Youth Center is partially supported by an appropriation from the city, but not enough to fully carry on.

National Safety
Council Honors
Local Paper Mill

Employees of the Manistique Pulp and Paper company were congratulated today by R. G. Hentschell, the plant manager for having achieved an enviable safety record and thereby being awarded a certificate of achievement by the national safety council.

"This means," says Mr. Hentschell, "that during the contest year ending June 30, disabling accidents at the plant were below the group average and also means a reduced number of accidents when compared with the previous contest."

Hentschell adds, "We have also been honored with a special award bar for the second quarter of this year for having 73,845 man-hours without an accident. It has been 265 days since our last lost time case. The above awards reflect the interest and cooperation of management, supervision, and employees in our safety program. Let's keep up the good work."

Production of firearms has been greatly speeded up by an electrical device which can distinguish between different magnetic metals such as iron and steel, and between different grades of the same metal.

Robare Murder
Case Up AgainConvicted Murderer
Asks For Retrial

Appeal for a reopening of a murder conviction more than a quarter of a century ago is sought by Edward Robare, serving a life sentence in the state prison at Jackson.

A lengthy brief, obviously drawn up by an attorney, but signed by Robare himself, has been filed in circuit court, alleging certain errors in conduct of trial.

Robare and Oscar Settergren, both residents of this vicinity were convicted in 1922 of the murder of Buford Norberg, a local milkman, who resided north of the city.

Young Man Held
Here; Charged
With Radio Theft

Warren F. Arrowood, 21, Route 1, Manistique, was placed under arrest Wednesday night, charged with the theft of a radio from a car belonging to the Lundstrom Chevrolet Company. When brought before Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Thursday afternoon, he waived preliminary examination and was bound over to the January term of circuit court. Bail was set at $1,000.

Unable to provide the necessary bond, he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff. The alleged theft occurred about November 14.

Robbery was the motive for the crime.

The trial, should it ever come to pass, would be unusual because every official who had anything to do with the conduct of the original trial has passed on. The exception is Sven Johnson, who was coroner at the time of the murder and who investigated it.

This is the fourth time that Robare has sought a reopening of the case. In all other instances, the motion for a reopening of the case has been denied by Judge Herbert Runnells.

Robare served most of his time in Marquette, but for the past few years has been incarcerated in Jackson.

Settergren, his convicted accomplice, was freed on a committed sentence and sent to southern Wisconsin to live with a son.

The murder was a particularly atrocious one. Norberg was bludgeoned to death with an improvised slug shot. The sleuthing done by local representatives of the law in Schoolcraft county in bringing the murderers to justice has been regarded as a crime classic and has been published in detective magazines.

ESCANABA JUNIOR BASKETBALL—In case you think Escanaba youngsters aren't steamed up about the grand old court game, basketball, just stop by the Escanaba junior high school gymnasium any time tomorrow or any Saturday between 9 a. m. and 12 and 1 and 4 p. m. and have your eyes opened. It's just about the hottest subject going right now among grade school youngsters. Coaches Art Peterson and Cliff Frasher, pictured above at left and right, respectively, have a group of from 70 to 80 youngsters each Saturday at the junior high. You're looking at one of the groups right now. Eight neighborhood teams have been organized for participation in regularly scheduled play throughout the season. Some was suggested yesterday that with 10 players participating in one game with only one ball, it's rough going. "Should have 10 basketballs—one for each," the wag said. "That's just about right," was Peterson's reply. "Everybody certainly wants to get into the act." (Escanaba Press photo).

Tough Grid Season For Fans; 20 Die

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—This year's major college football season was harder on spectators than on players.

The score—20 spectators died of heart attacks. Player deaths 0. Were the heart deaths at football mostly among older persons? The available reports do not fully answer this question, but indicate that older men were mostly the victims.

There is no possibility of finding out the percentage of older spectators, and so statistics cannot tell you at what age to stop watching football.

But medical science has some good tips. First, what a football game does to your body. It does the same thing as getting angry, putting over a tough selling proposition, arguing fiercely or fighting or watching a fight or any stiff competition.

Kircher Starts All-Veteran Team Against U-M Saturday

Blackhawks Hitting Stride, Climb Into Third In Puck Race

By the Associated Press

After a shaky start the Chicago Blackhawks are hitting their stride again and threatening a real race for honors in the National Hockey League.

The Hawks won their third straight game and stretched their unbeaten string to four last night by beating the Boston Bruins in a humdinger at Chicago, 5 to 4.

The triumph pushed Chicago into third place in the league standings, hurdling over the Stanley Cup Champion Toronto Maple Leafs, who bowed to the leading Detroit Red Wings, 2-0.

It was a nip-and-tuck battle that thrilled 12,840 fans at Chicago. Boston was ahead twice and the score was tied four times. But the Hawks struck quickly for two goals in the second period and two more in the third that won the decision.

With Boston leading 4-3, Ben Guidolin pushed in the tying goal for Chicago at 13:36 of the last period and Gaye Stewart fired the clincher less than a minute later.

AL KIRCHER
Gladstone's Gift To MSC

Gladstone-St. Joe May Be One Of Best Games Of Season

Sure, it's early in the season, but the Gladstone-St. Joseph's tussle in Gladstone this evening ranks as one of the most attractive dishes on the local schedule. The prep program starts at 7 with a game between the reserves, and the varsity game will take over at 8:30.

Gladstone has won one, a 56-37 tilt with Bark River. St. Joe beat that team by only 39-36 in its opener but it came back a week later to defeat Escanaba, 55-45, for the "Cappy" Keil first time in its basketball history. That win, undoubtedly enhances the prospect of a good close battle tonight.

Coach Eldon "Cappy" Keil starting his 26th year as coach of the Gladstone Braves, has a veteran team built around the elongated talents of big Phil Creten. It showed to good advantage against Bark River, particularly at the outset, and Keil has been working since to eliminate the loose play that was evident in portions of the Bark River game.

Cage fans are looking forward to a battle royal between Creten and Jack Miron, the big fellow on the St. Joe lineup who matches Creten's height and capabilities.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Philadelphia—George "Sugar" Costner, 148½, Camden, N. J., knocked out Pittsburgh—Don Alderson, 140, Canonsburg, Pa., outpointed Ronnie Harper, 138, Huntington, W. Va., 10.

New York (Sunrise Garden)—Joey Atria, 141, New York, outpointed Al Pepin, 131½, Brooklyn, knocked out James P. Connelly, 206½, Dorchester, Mass., 2.

Fall River, Mass.—Billy Gordon, 161, Fall River, outpointed Georges Chate, 160, Paris, France, 10.

New York (Sunnyside Garden)—Joey Atria, 141, New York, outpointed Al Pepin, 131½, Brooklyn, knocked out James P. Connelly, 206½, Dorchester, Mass., 2.

Two Upsets Already In College Basketball

New York, Dec. 2 (AP)—The college basketball season officially opened last night and right off the bat two major upsets went into the books.

The University of San Francisco, national invitation tourney champions and regarded as one of the top teams in the country this season, took a 43-38 jolt from San Jose (Calif.) State while Vanderbilt, a 13-point underdog, whipped New York University, 65-59, in overtime. Madison Square Garden.

It's Al's Baptism As Spartan Coach

East Lansing, Dec. 2 (AP)—Michigan State will pin its hopes on an all-veteran squad in the basketball opener with Michigan here Saturday night.

Coach Al Kircher, taking over as head man for the first time this season, feels that his promising sophomore prospects need a little more seasoning.

At center, Kircher will start Ray Steffen, Flint Junior, the tallest man on the squad at six feet four inches. Steffen is the only Michigan product on the starting lineup.

Bill Rapchack, who holds the MSC scoring record, will be at one forward post, and Hugh Dawson, converted from a guard, will be at the other. Both are seniors.

Jim Snodgrass, a junior, and Bob Robbins, a senior and captain, will man the guard posts. There is a strong probability that Al Cummins, a transfer from Kentucky, will see almost as much action as Dawson at guard.

Charlevoix's big Bob Carey, the football end, probably will be given a chance to spell Steffen at center.

"The sophomores need experience and work before you can ask the best out of them," said Kircher in explaining why he would ride with his veterans.

Kircher has a schedule that includes eight meetings with western conference teams but he says he's been too busy to do any worrying.

"What's the use of stalling," he said. "A year from now we'll be playing a full Big 10 schedule and we might as well get used to the rough going right now. The experience might help some."

Kircher, 39, is a former MSC basketball star. He took over when Ben F. Van Alstyne retired as head coach after 23 years at the job.

The game with Michigan will be the 59th in the traditional series dating back to 1909. Michigan has won 38 and Michigan State 17.

Suprunowicz Is Michigan's Ace

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—Michigan makes its 1949-50 basketball debut with a strong first line team and little else Saturday at Michigan State college.

Coach Ernie McCoy, embarking on his second season as head coach of the Wolverines, presents four veterans and a good-looking sophomore, built around the catquick abilities of Mack Suprunowicz, senior ace from Schenectady, N. Y.

The six foot, 180-pound easterner ranked third in the individual Big Ten scoring race last season as he sparked Michigan to the third rung in the conference ladder.

An outstanding newcomer, Jim Scala, pride of last year's freshman crop and reserve end on Michigan's Big Ten football champs, will fill out the forward spots with Suprunowicz.

Big Ten Quintets Play Non-Loop Foes

Chicago, Dec. 2 (AP)—Six Big Ten basketball teams enter the arenas against non-conference competition tomorrow.

Illinois, defending champion, travels to Indianapolis to play Butler.

Minnesota, runnerup last year, will be at home tomorrow to Loyola of Chicago.

In other games Michigan State is host to Michigan, De Paul invades Ohio State, Purdue entertains De Pauw of Greencastle, Ind., and Marquette renews an old rivalry with Wisconsin at Madison.

Iowa swings back into action Monday against Michigan State while Northwestern is entertaining Ripon. On the same night Marquette invades Ohio State.

DETROIT GETS NBA

Lansing, Dec. 2 (AP)—Floyd Stevens, state boxing commissioner, reported today that the 1950 convention of the National Boxing Association will be held in Detroit in September.

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

It is evident that Earl L. "Curly" Lambeau is in complete control of the situation in the Green Bay Packer family, sometimes facetiously referred to as the Rockwood Packers.

After a five-hour meeting with the board of directors, Lambeau emerged with a two-year contract and wearing a smile that indicated he had been successful in his three main objectives: (1) Paving the way for elimination of his foes, (2) Maintaining sole charge of hiring and firing and (3) Having the privilege of living six months out of the year in California.

According to a report out of Green Bay, "his attitude after the meeting indicated that his demands had been met to an extent which satisfied him," and Emil Fischer, president of the Packer corporation, reported that "Lambeau's position is the same as it was before."

The bones of contention reportedly were not discussed. They are to wit: The hiring of George Strickler as publicity director of the Packers and the playing of "home" games in Milwaukee. A mealy crowd of 5,800 saw the Packers play their last game in Milwaukee.

The general consensus is that Lambeau is still in complete charge.

Off the cuff: Newberry in the news again . . . Paul Dake, 19-year-old Newberry sailor, is leaving U. S. Navy service in Trinidad and is hopeful that his 209 pounds and six-foot frame will qualify him as a football lineman at the University of Michigan or Marquette next fall . . . Dake is a former Newberry high school athlete.

When Marquette opens its Northern Lakes Hockey league season against Marquette here Saturday night, Dec. 17, it probably will have at least three members of the fast 1948-49 team in the lineup, namely John Pleshe, Jim Eady and Norman Kukuk . . . All are Marquette residents . . . The Canadian Soo team in the Northern league, is a Detroit Red Wing farm club.

Steve Petros will be missing from the lineup when the Marquette Redmen play the Escanaba Eskymos here tonight . . . But all Coach Stan Sosnoski has to replace him with is a six-foot one-inch cager by the name of Frank Young . . . Petros sprained his ankle this week . . . We used the phrase "fugitives from a Negaunee iron ore mine" loosely in connection with the appearance here tonight of Al Rudness and Paul Meli to officiate the Escanaba-Marquette basketball game . . . We were writing in a jocular vein, of course . . . Our friends, Al and Paul, are bona fide residents of Negaunee and highly respected citizens.

Let's see how good your arithmetic is today . . . Steve Owens tells this story of running into one of his former Giant stars, Ward Cuff, now a high school coach in Green Bay . . . Cuff is talking to Owens: "I use a 6-3-2 setup or sometimes a 5-4-2 defense," he explained, "and when the going gets really tough, I switch to a 5-5-2, and the best part of it is we never get caught at it all year."

Four Marinette Marines and one Marinette Lourdes player were honored on the all-Wisconsin high school football team . . . Jim Strem, quarterback, made the first team . . . The fellow who was a thorn in Escanaba's side, Allan Felch, got honorable mention, as did Dick Faucett, guard, and Johnny Arendt, center . . . Lourdes player honorably mentioned was Denny Ahearn, center.

150 Participating In Junior High Cage Loop

Twenty intramural basketball teams have been organized in the Escanaba junior high school this past week and play is now underway.

The teams, comprised of approximately 150 JHS students, are coached by William Puckelwartz, veteran of 22 years of basketball coaching in Escanaba.

Players report at 8 each morning and play two games. Percentage standings are kept throughout the season, which ends in March. The players are taught to officiate their own games. Usually, boys who are prospective players on the regular junior high school team, which plays St. Joseph and EHS reserves, are selected for officiating.

Six teams of seventh graders, and seven teams each of eighth and ninth graders are now playing in the leagues at the junior high school. Big moment in their season is the playoff at the end of the season, between the top three eighth and ninth grade teams and the two top seventh grade teams.

Basketball is a game of skill which requires a high degree of physical endurance and exacting team work, Coach Puckelwartz noted.

"Few members of the EHS basketball teams make that grade unless they have had previous training in the junior high ranks," he stated.

Boys who play in the leagues at the junior high school are required to report for each scheduled game. If a player fails to show up for a game in the morning, he must spend an extra hour after school. The second time a player misses a game, he is out of league play.

ALBION BEATS WAYNE

Albion, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—Albion College turned in a 53 to 40 basketball victory over Wayne University of Detroit last night. The surprising Britons led all the way and at one point had a 22-point advantage. They let at halftime, 25-15.

Marquette-Esky Go Tonight

Chandnois Is All-America Choice; Doak Walker Asked To Be Left Off The Team

For the first time in the 60-year history of Collier's all-America, one of the nation's outstanding football athletes asked that his name be eliminated from consideration for the weekly's 1949 eleven on the grounds that there were others more deserving of consideration.

He is Doak Walker of Southern Methodist, Collier's 1948 quarter-back, who was out of action with influenza and leg injuries for approximately one-third of the current season.

The unprecedented action prompted Collier's editors to name the Dallas athlete "Player of the Year for Sportsmanship," coincidental with the naming of the 1949 All-America by Collier's All-America Board of coaches representing the American Football Coaches Association.

Walker, aware that he was being considered by the Collier's coaches' board, wrote to the magazine:

"I believe that there are other All-America candidates who have seen more action and therefore are more deserving of consideration."

Notre Dame and Minnesota each placed two men on the team, Collier's All-America lineup for 1949 follows:

ENDS—Leon Hart of Notre Dame; Jim Williams of Rice.

TACKLES—Wade Walker of Oklahoma; Leo Nomellini of Minnesota.

GUARDS—Rod Franz of California; Bernie Barkouskie of Pittsburgh.

CENTER—Clayton Tonnemaker of Minnesota.

QUARTERBACK—Arnold Gallifa of Army.

HALFBACKS—Charles Justice of North Carolina; Lynn Chandnois of Michigan State.

FULLBACK—Emil Sitko of Notre Dame.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 2 (AP)—Golden Doak Walker will end his collegiate football career on the bench tomorrow—and in civilian clothes.

Southern Methodist University Coach Matty Bell last night said his triple-threat backfield star wouldn't even suit out for tomorrow's game with mighty Notre Dame.

The definite loss of Walker dimmed further Southern Methodist's already dim hopes of upsetting the Irish, shooting for their 38th consecutive victory.

"His leg just didn't respond to treatment," Bell said of Walker. "He can't run at all."

Walker reinjured a leg in the Texas Christian university game last week. He was out most of the second half.

Bell would not name the back

who would replace Walker.

"We're trying several combinations," was all he would say.

Walker, an all-America for three straight years, was one of the main hopes Southern Methodist rosters had for an upset over Frank Leahy's powerful eleven.

Heyliger Worries About Michigan's Hockey Situation

Ann Arbor, Mich., Dec. 2 (AP)—Worry is often the stock in trade of the athletic coach. But Vic Heyliger is overstocked.

The energetic little Michigan hockey mentor is figuratively holding his head over what shapes up as one of the toughest challenges in his career.

He's pleased with the newly expanded, 4,000-seat, Michigan coliseum, complete with heat. But in view of construction delays, the last brick is scheduled to go up just about the time the doors open Dec. 10 for the opener with McMaster University.

And due to the construction delays, practice has been sadly mangled for his squad that has lost the record-setting forward line of Renfrew—McMillan—Gacek by graduation.

Practice normally opens here Nov. 1. This year, the hockey squad didn't get on the ice until last Saturday. Heyliger bussed them all to Detroit for a workout at Olympia Arena.

Monday, the coach took his squad into the coliseum here and formally started practice, right in the middle of the partially completed building. To the accompaniment of saws, hammers and brick layers' trowels, the Michigan rink squad began to take out the kinks of the long layoff.

A bangup basketball game is in prospect at the junior high school gym here tonight when the Escanaba Eskymos square off against the potent Graveraet Redmen of Marquette. The reserve game starts at 7 and the varsity tilt at 8:30.

The Redmen are gunning for their best season in years, and the Eskymos are intent in blocking their progress. Marquette has a veteran lineup to toss against Escanaba's comparatively inexperienced squad, but the Eskymos may have a surprise or two in store for the Redmen.

Coach Steve Baltic intends to use different combinations which may throw some light on who will carry the brunt of the Eskymos' attack throughout the season.

Al Rudness and Paul Meli, both of Negaunee, will officiate the main game.

Basketball

ESCANABA BASKETBALL LEAGUE results last night: Harnischfeger 35, People's Bar 24. High point men—Sam Schram, Harnischfeger, and Oon Ohman, People's, 13 each.

VFW 60, Andy's of Bark River 49. High point men—Don Lewis 19 and Roy Johnson 16, VFW, and DeBon and Salvage 19 and 18, respectively, for Bark River.

Cloverland 48, Gladstone Lions 33. High point men—Elroy Zimmerman 11, Cloverland, and Williams, Gladstone, 16.

Powers 46, Wait Window 20. High point men—Don Shannon, Powers, 12, and Frank Stropich, Wait, 9.

An important meeting of the Escanaba Basketball association will be held at Club 314 at 7 tonight. All officers and managers are asked to be present. Next week's schedule will be announced tomorrow.

Black And Spartans Are Favored To Win

Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—Lanky Bob Black of Rhode Island State college and Michigan State's Spartans are favorites to repeat their individual and team victories in the National AAU cross-country race here tomorrow.

Sponsored by Wayne University, the meet will be held over the Warren Valley golf course. The runners will cover six and a quarter miles.

DARTBALL

In Civic league dartball matches at the dartball center last night, the Daily Press defeated Birdseye Local, 5-4, 13-10, 5-8, and Phoenix downed Eagles No. 2 by 8-2, 4-1 and 2-6. St. Anne's CYO copped three from the Chevies by scores of 1-0, 4-0 and 3-1.

In Industrial league tilts, Wood-ticks took two from St. Joe Boosters, 12-3, 8-5 and 3-1, and the Independents likewise won two from Eagles No. 1 by 10-3, 4-2 and 66-8.

PGA Stop Talking And Start Playing

Southern Pines, N. C., Dec. 2 (AP)—After talking the game all week, delegates to the 33rd annual Professional Golfers' Association of America meeting got around to playing golf today.

Many went to nearby Pinehurst for a semi-formal tournament. The consensus was that the decks had been cleared for a progressive year ahead.

Moffett Heads Lamprey Fight

Will Be Stationed At Ann Arbor

Washington, D. C., (WNS)—Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior is moving Dr. James W. Moffett, one of its experts into the Great Lakes area to take charge of the battle against the savage commercial fish destroying lamprey and he will head thirty experts, it was learned.

Dr. Moffett will have his headquarters at Ann Arbor, Mich., but he will be in all sections of the Great Lakes region in supervising the work, it was stated. Dr. Moffett has been stationed in California and is now engaged in moving to Ann Arbor. Dr. Moffett is a fishery biologist with wide experience. He will go into methods of destroying the lamprey by parasitic development and by predatory means. Development of a parasite which will destroy the lamprey but may not attack trout and other commercial fish which the lamprey kills is the objective of the study.

W. F. Carbine of the Inland Fisheries Division of the Fish and Wildlife Service returned to Washington after making a survey in Escanaba and other points in the region. He said latest development in the plan for destruction of the lamprey is by introduction of a parasite which will destroy the lamprey but which will not injure other fish. This study has not progressed as far as developing the parasite. It is to take up this development that Dr. Moffett is coming east from California to the Great Lakes.

"Activity will not begin until spring, probably March or April when the ice goes out," Mr. Carbine said. "First we must get our personnel together. About 30 men will be employed. These will be named from U. S. Civil Service lists which have already been established. Boat for the laboratory is not yet in Great Lakes waters. The boat we have in mind is in the Philippines. It will have to be moved from there through the Panama Canal to the St. Lawrence River and thence to the lakes, if the plan of using this boat is followed.

He said experiments will include a study of the trout and other commercial fish attacked by the lamprey—the life cycle, where they spawn and where the young fish live.

Mr. Carbine will return to the Great Lakes work in about two weeks and will confer with Dr. Moffett on plans for the lamprey attack.

Rapid River

Birthday Party
Rapid River—Mrs. Ned Short entertained relatives at a 7 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening at her home honoring her mother, Mrs. Arthur Thivierge of Gladstone, on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. Guests besides Mrs. Short and her family were Mr. and Mrs. George Eckstrom and Judy of Manistique, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Paeske and two children of Escanaba, Mary Lou Thivierge of Gladstone, Helen Jean Thivierge, who is a pediatric nurse in Milwaukee. The honor guest received many lovely gifts.

Extension Services
Extension services, sponsored by the Esther Society and Service Guild of Calvary Lutheran Church will be held at the Stone Anderson school in Escanaba Wednesday evening, December 7. A short program will be presented followed by an apron and fancy work sale. Pot luck lunch will be served. The public is invited.

Home Economics Meeting
The Rapid River home economics group will meet Monday evening, December 5, at 7 o'clock, in St. Charles hall. Pot luck lunch will follow the lesson and members are asked to call 722 to obtain information on the lunch. The lesson will be on making aluminum trays. Articles needed are steel wool 00, soft cloths, scissors, fine paint brush, stove enamel, round-end pliers and adhesive tape. A Christmas party will be held at the meeting and gifts will be exchanged. The lesson will be given by Mrs. Ned Short and Mrs. Leslie Caswell.

Personals
Rapid River—Miss Donna King is visiting in Escanaba with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smyth, while Mrs. Smyth is recovering from an arm fracture received in a fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Busch have left for a month's visit in Detroit. Charles Kirsh left Wednesday for Manitowish, Wis., called by the death of his nephew, Jerome Kirsh son of Joseph Kirsh. Funeral services were held Thursday. No details were given in the message.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Watters left Tuesday by motor for Jackson where they will visit Mr. Watters' parents and then go on to Washington, D. C. They plan to be away for three weeks.

Bill Watters who spent a week of the hunting season at his home here left with Dick Carlson of Stonington for El Paso, Tex., where they will be employed.

Mrs. J. M. Young and Mrs. Irvin Was of Menominee visited at the C. E. Hamilton home Wednesday.

Miss Edith Mae Johnson of Saginaw and Eugene Johnson who is attending Michigan State college, East Lansing, have returned after a holiday visit at their parental home in Whitefish.

Mrs. William Matthews and daughter, Eva Marie, Escanaba, are visiting Mrs. Matthews' mother, Mrs. Eva Holmgren in Whitefish.

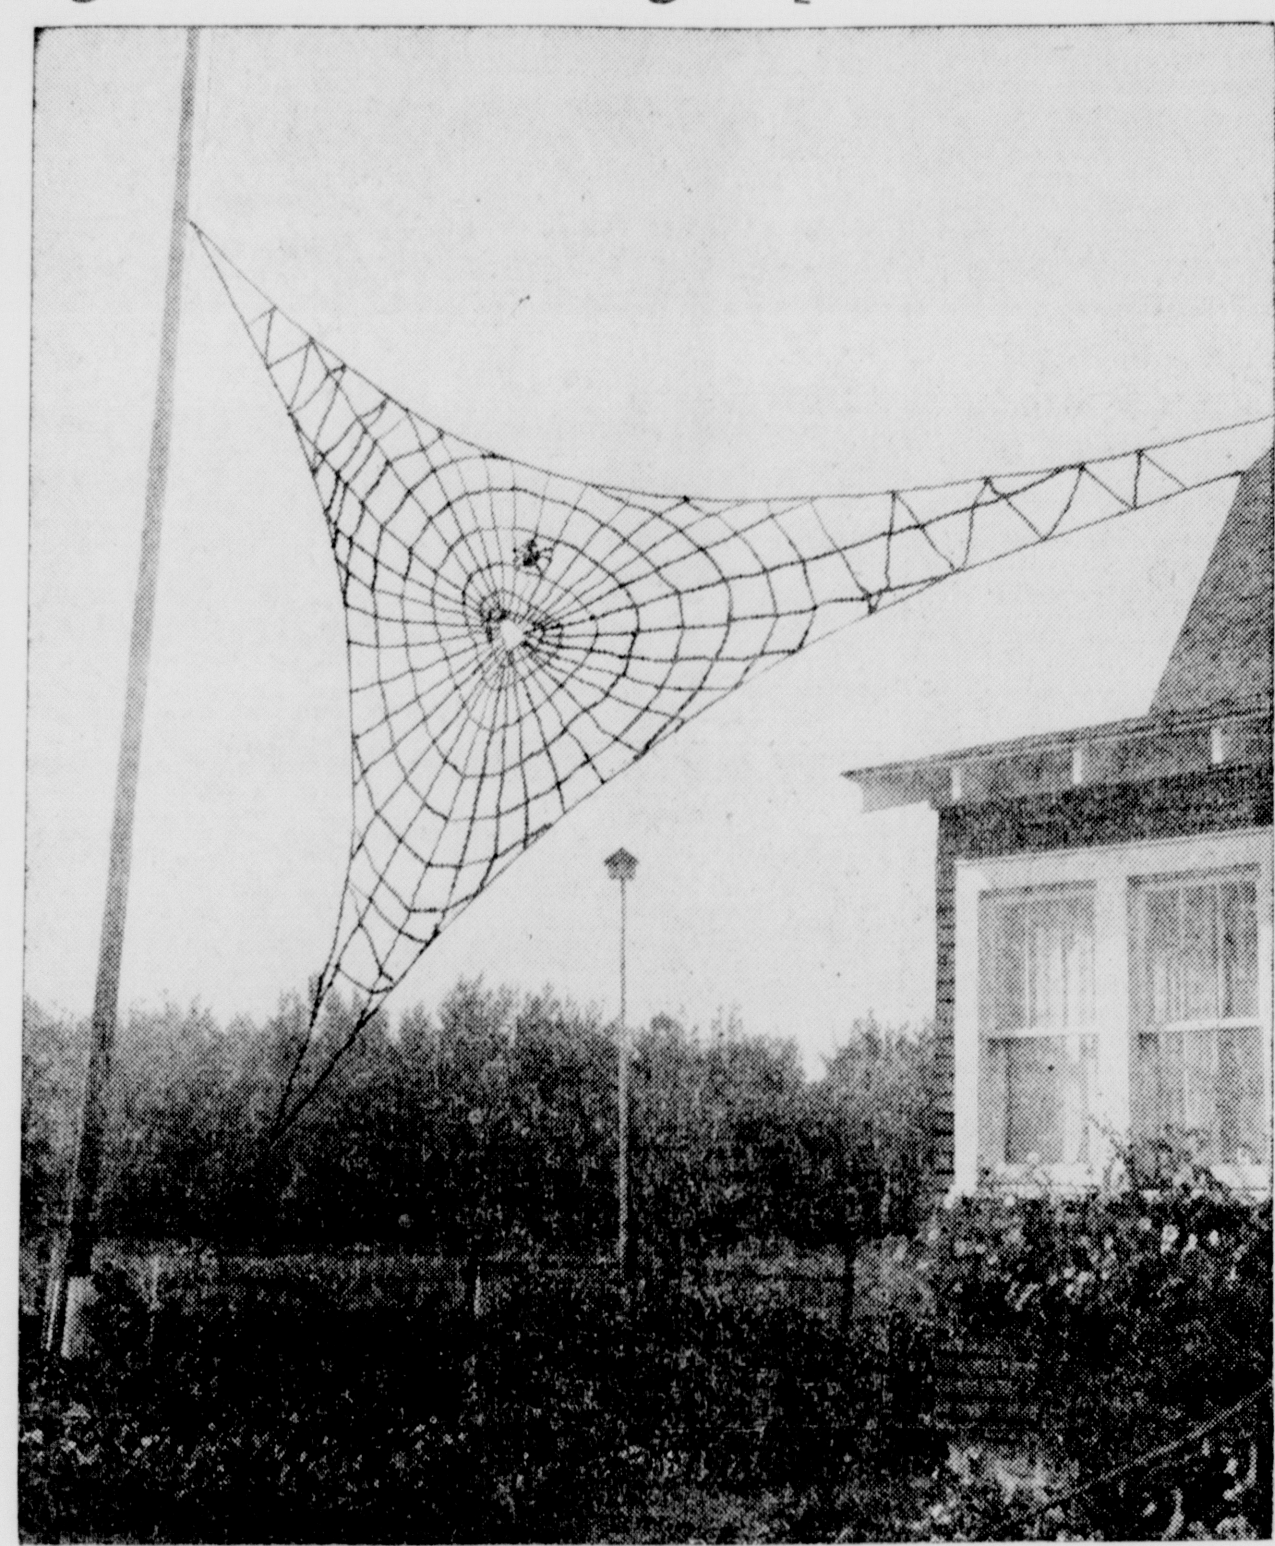

Otto and Simon Olson have returned to Detroit after spending a few days with their father, Ole Olson. Mr. Olson will leave in a month for Detroit to make his home with them.

Homer Papanau has been dismissed from St. Francis hospital where he was a patient for the past three weeks and is recuperating at his home.

Mrs. Ned Short and Mrs. Leslie Caswell attended a home economics leaders' meeting Wednesday evening at the REA building in Gladstone for a lesson on making of aluminum trays.

Engagement Told
Mrs. Agnes Lind announces the engagement of her daughter, Sue Agnes, to Richard K. Shogren, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shogren of Beloit, Wis. The wedding will take place in January in Rapid River.

Thompson Hatchery Employe Draws Sightseers With Huge Spider Web

Famed Volcano Mt. Etna Erupts

Catania, Sicily, Dec. 2 (AP)—Mount Etna, Europe's highest volcano, began erupting strongly shortly before dawn today. Nearby towns were covered with a thin layer of volcanic ash.

Loud rumbling signaled the start of the eruption which sent smoke and cinders spewing into the air from the 10,759-foot-high volcano on Sicily's east coast.

It was the first activity of the famed volcano since last June 7. At the time Etna belched smoke and cinders, but there was no damage.

The last heavy eruption was in Feb. 1947, when flowing lava did considerable damage to crops on the cultivated slopes of the mountain.

Eruptions of Etna as far back as the fifth century B. C. are mentioned in Greek literature. Since the 16th century the volcano has erupted usually at intervals of approximately six years.

Engadine

Personals
Engadine—Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Welty and David Seitz of Ottawa, O., and Robert Ganders of Columbus Grove, O., have returned home after a 10-day stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Welty.

Relatives attending the funeral of Hugh Butler at Garnet Tuesday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Freeman and son, Frank Harry, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler and George Crnkovich.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Klambacher have returned to Lansing after a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Boucha. Other guests who have returned home are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Boucha and daughter, Kathie, Manistique and Charles Wamsley and Harold Dickinson and son, Charles, of Cass City.

Sam Radwick and son, Patrick, of Ferndale and Charles Klambacher of Lansing spent a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hancock.

Mrs. Tony Pleser of Lansing is visiting at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Binko, for ten days.

Guests Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Butler were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coffey of Garnet and Mrs. Gladys Gill of Flint.

Byrnes Not Out For Presidency

Greenville, S. C., Dec. 2 (AP)—James F. Byrnes says he is not a candidate for president of the United States. The former Secretary of State made that statement yesterday in an interview.

Byrnes, who said recently he was considering becoming a candidate for governor of South Carolina next year, abruptly ended speculation which gained momentum at the southern governors' conference two weeks ago.

Gov. Kerr Scott of North Carolina, returning from the governors' conference at Biloxi, Miss., was quoted as saying there was much speculation that Byrnes might be proposed by States' Rights Democrats as the Democratic party's presidential candidate in 1952.

If that failed, Scott was further quoted to persuade Byrnes to run as the States' Rights candidate.

Byrnes said yesterday, however, that he would not be a candidate for president or vice-president of the States' Rights party, the Democratic party, the Republican party or any other political party.

Green Tree To Stay On Letters Stamped From Christmas, Fla.

Christmas, Fla., Dec. 2 (AP)—The postoffice department has bowed to the spirit of Christmas.

The little green tree will be stamped again on letters mailed during the Yuletide season from this small Florida town with the holiday name.

The postoffice department ruled earlier that the familiar stamp could not be used this year, but pleas by Postmistress Juanita S. Tucker and Sen. Spessard L. Holland of Florida have induced high officials to change their mind.

For years Miss Tucker has used the green tree stamp on letters sent here by thousands of persons to be mailed with the "Christmas" postmark.

Reversing its earlier order, the postoffice department has ruled that the cachet could be used again this year if there is a specific request from each person sending a letter to be mailed and if there is no extra cost to the government.

Junior Prize Steer Brings $5 A Pound

Chicago, Dec. 2 (AP)—Bonnie Lu Logan got $5.00 a pound for her 1,330 pound Junior Grand Champion steer at the International Livestock show today and broke all price records for the junior animal. The previous top was $4.50 set in 1946.

Last year's Junior Grand Champion steer, sold for only $2.50 a pound.

Pretty, blonde Bonnie Lu 15, is from Van Wert, O.

Topping a spirited bidding race, Henry Wagner, executive chef of the Stevens Hotel, Chicago, outbid Bert Overman, of Wilson and Company.

Western Michigan Loses To Wildcats

Evanston, Ill., Dec. 2 (AP)—Paced by high-scoring Bob Adams, Western Michigan's Broncos put up a rugged fight against Northwestern University's basketball team last night but went down to a 54 to 43 defeat.

Adams, a guard, accounted for 18 points, four better than Ray Ragelis, the six-foot, four-inch forward who was Northwestern's top scorer last season. The Michigan star piled up his total on nine field goals.

Mental Hospital Jam Discussed

Expansion To House 5,000 Proposed
Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—A group of health and welfare experts proposed today that Michigan construct sufficient new hospitals to house 5,000 mental patients.

The expenditure of $50,000,000 was mentioned.

The proposal came from a committee representing several Wayne county organizations and was tied in with current efforts to solve the state's growing problem of mental cases.

At next week's meeting of the State Mental Health Commission the proposal will be presented formally.

Establishment of state mental health clinics and a parole clinic will be recommended as part of a "modernization" program in the state's care of mental cases.

It was pointed out by the committee that Wayne county has made extensive savings through operation of such clinics. Its health clinic has an estimated case load of 105 persons a month.

Frank E. Kelley, chairman of the Wayne county board of county institutions, urged an expanded program.

"This state has got to spend some money to modernize its care of mentally ill persons," Kelley said. "It should issue bonds for a $50,000,000 building program."

Kelley attacked the hospitalization of 550 mental patients at Sault Ste. Marie's Fort Brady which the Army is again to take over.

He said the patients should "never have been sent" to the Soo since it was "like sending them to Devil's Island, hundreds of miles from their families."

Expert On Chinese Affairs Taken Ill

Washington, Dec. 2 (AP)—The serious illness of Ambassador John Leighton Stuart has deprived this country of one of its best China experts at a critical stage in its relations with the Far East.

Stuart, in serious condition at the Naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., is expected to be out of action indefinitely. He was stricken yesterday with a cerebral hemorrhage, three months after being summoned from Nanking for consultations.

The 73-year-old diplomat was born in China and was a missionary-educator there for four decades.

Gold Hunter Ordered To Fill Up 400 Holes In Helena Pasture

Helena, Mont., Dec. 2 (AP)—Prosecutor Julius Jannott has 30 days to refill about 400 holes in a pasture near Helena.

Justice of the Peace George Hambridge yesterday ordered the gold hunter to fill in the holes in the Brian O'Connell ranch pasture.

Jannott, charged with property destruction, told the judge he dug the holes in his search for gold, but declared "I'm too busy to fill them."

So Hambridge told him to make a reasonable effort. That seemed satisfactory to O'Connell, who had complained that he had to keep a rider on guard to prevent injury to cattle. He said he lost one calf in the diggings.

Some of the holes, a deputy sheriff testified, are as large as "nine by nine by nine feet."

Girl, 10, Disappears In Detroit Barroom

Detroit, Dec. 2 (AP)—A general police alarm was broadcast today for a 10-year-old girl who disappeared last night while touring barrooms with a roomer from her home.

The roomer, Virgil Leasure, 48, said he got sick and went to the men's room at a tavern about midnight, leaving the child in the company of a couple whom he knew only as "Del and Mary Ellen." When he returned, he said, all three were gone.

Missing is Patricia Roberts, a blonde, blue-eyed girl weighing 72 pounds.

Her mother, Mrs. Sarah Roberts, a widow, said Leasure went to visit a brother-in-law last night and she gave him permission to take Patricia along.

Leasure told police that he and the child visited two or three taverns after seeing his brother-in-law.

Missouri Negro, 35, Dies For 6 Murders

Jefferson City, Mo., Dec. 2 (AP)—A 35-year-old negro was executed early today in the Missouri penitentiary gas chamber for his part in a gun fight that cost six lives.

George U. Bell, who earlier had said he wasn't afraid to die, went to his death with outward calm.

He was convicted of killing a policeman during the fight at a Kansas City apartment house Sept. 20, 1948.

The shooting broke out when police went to the apartment house to arrest Bell's brother William, for disturbing the peace. William Bell, four policemen and a bystander were killed in the fight that followed.

Lower State Gets Snowfall

(By The Associated Press)
Slippery roads made driving dangerous in most of Southern Michigan early today in the wake of a heavy snow storm.

One death and scores of injuries were blamed on the ice and snow that coated highways throughout the southern half of the lower peninsula.

The Automobile Club of Michigan reported most major routes were clearing as the day progressed. Motorists were warned, however, that all secondary roads were "very slippery" south of the Bay City-Ludington line and would probably remain so throughout the day.

The northern half of the state generally escaped the snow fall, save for the northwestern portion of the lower peninsula. There the state highway department reported "very extensive" slippery conditions on most trunklines.

Defense Plan Set To Give Europe Billion In Arms

this country should become involved in war—are mainly: (1) Strategic bombing, including possible use of the atomic bomb; (2) Naval operations jointly with other naval powers to keep Atlantic sea lanes open; and (3) Participation in land action following up the initial resistance of the armies of the countries first attacked.

Officials here said that the strategy statement, which reportedly will be kept secret, still has to be formally approved by the Atlantic council, the top policy-making body of the alliance, of which Acheson is chairman.

Shipments In January
For purposes of the arms shipments it must be certified by President Truman as acceptable to the United States. No difficulty is foreseen on this score since the plan is largely American in origin.

In authorizing the billion-dollar arms aid program, Congress laid two requirements. First, that each of the nations to be helped should sign an agreement with the United States committing itself to use the arms for strengthening the defenses of the Atlantic area; second, that only $100,000,000 worth could be actually delivered until all the Atlantic powers agreed on a common defense strategy.

The nation-to-nation agreements are now being worked out with the eight European nations which will receive aid. Those and final action on the strategic plan are expected to be complete before Christmas.

Military officials said that no time would be lost in starting arms shipments once these legal requirements are out of the way. They estimated that it would be around the first of the year and possibly early January before shipments get underway.
